Number of credits: 12
Educational level: I.
Course requirements: The student must submit the bachelor's thesis within the deadline specified in the schedule of the current academic year for the relevant date of the state exam. The bachelor thesis is submitted in electronic form via AIS. The work must meet the parameters determined by the internal quality system of Comenius University. The provisions of Article 14 of Internal Regulation no. 5/2020 (Study Regulations of the Faculty of Arts of Comenius University) apply to the evaluation of the bachelor's thesis. The supervisor of the final thesis and its opponent will prepare evaluations of the bachelor's thesis and propose a grade in the A-FX grading scale, which the student receives a minimum of three working days before the defence. Grading scale: 0-59% -FX, 60-67% -E, 68-75% -D, 76-83% -C, 84-91% -B, 92-100% -A Bachelor thesis evaluation criteria: <ol style="list-style-type: none">1. The contribution of the bachelor's thesis, the fulfilment of the goals of the thesis in its assignment, and the requirements for the content of the bachelor's thesis given by the internal quality system of Comenius University. The following is assessed: demonstration of knowledge and skills, ability to work creatively in the study program, ability applied in the collection, interpretation, and processing of basic scientific literature; in the case of an empirically oriented bachelor's thesis also mastering the application of theoretical principles in practice and verifiability of hypotheses.2. Originality of the work (bachelor thesis must not be plagiarized, must not infringe the copyrights of other authors); the documentation for the defence of the bachelor's thesis also includes protocols of originality from the CRZP and Theses systems, to the results of which the thesis supervisor and the opponent express their opinions in their evaluations.3. Correctness and accuracy of citation of used information sources, research results of other authors and group authors, correctness of the description of methods and working procedures of other authors or group authors.4. Compliance of the structure of the bachelor's thesis with the prescribed composition defined by the internal quality system of Comenius University.5. Respecting the recommended length of the bachelor's thesis (the recommended length of the bachelor's thesis is usually 30 – 40 standard pages = 54,000 to 72,000 characters, including spaces), the adequacy of the length of the thesis is assessed by the thesis supervisor.6. Linguistic and stylistic level of work and formal adjustments. The student orally presents the content, achieved goals, and conclusions of the bachelor's thesis, and answers the questions and comments of the thesis supervisor, opponent, or members of the examination committee. The committee will comprehensively evaluate the quality of the bachelor's thesis, assess the method and form of defence, and the student's ability to adequately respond to comments and questions from the evaluations of the thesis supervisor and the opponent. The student receives their final grade based on the average of the assessment of the thesis supervisor and opponent from their evaluations, and the assessment of the examination committee.

Scale of assessment (preliminary/final): 0/100

Learning outcomes:

The student has mastered the basic requirements of writing a scientific text in compliance with the rules of academic ethics, is able to work creatively in the field of study in which he completed the study program, and has adequate knowledge and understanding of the relevant issues. The student can apply his skills in the collection, interpretation, and processing of basic scientific literature, or even in its application in practice, or has the ability to solve a partial task related to the focus of the bachelor's thesis. After a successful defence of the bachelor's thesis, the student is able to logically deal with the theoretical background of the bachelor's thesis and respond to questions relating to the relevant issues.

Class syllabus:

1. The student presents the bachelor's thesis in front of the committee for state exams, the opponent of the bachelor's thesis, and those present.
2. The student responds to comments and questions in the evaluations.
3. The student responds to the questions of the committee for state exams or the questions in a broader debate

COURSE DESCRIPTION

Academic year: 2022/2023
University: Comenius University Bratislava
Faculty: Faculty of Arts
Course ID: FiF.KPol/A-moPO-137/22	Course title: Balkan Studies
Educational activities: Type of activities: seminar Number of hours: per week: 2 per level/semester: 28 Form of the course: on-site learning
Number of credits: 3
Recommended semester: 3., 5.
Educational level: I., II.
Prerequisites:
Antirequisites: FiF.KPol/A-moPO-137/20
Course requirements: Assessment will be two-fold: essay/written test and regular written submissions. 1. Essay (64 points): During the exam period, students will submit an essay with a recommended length of 10 standard pages on a selected topic. Topics should not relate to historical events that have already been dealt with too many times (such as the Disintegration of Yugoslavia; The Life of Slobodan Milošević etc.), since there is only a marginal probability not to repeat what has already been said and usually these works are only compilations of already published texts. Students are encouraged to analyze current events in the Western Balkan countries, and the essays are supposed to contain specific predictions/recommendations for the future. An exception for historiographical topics may be an area that has not enjoyed great interest of researchers so far. The topic of the essay must be approved by the course instructor at the start of the process. or an alternative: Test (64 points): The written test is an alternative for those who do not want to write an essay for some reason, or they submit it on a topic that has not been approved in advance. Students who submit an essay properly do not need to take the test. The test will have open and closed questions, while the aim will not be to verify encyclopedic knowledge, but to check if the students managed to gain overall understanding of the analyzed topics and realities in the Western Balkans. 2. Regular short written submissions (36 points): For each lesson, all students will prepare a short (one A4 paper) elaboration of any topic that is related to the country that will be covered in the lesson. Topics can be diverse (from a short probe into the life of a particular political figure to the history of a favourite country's football team). At each course, the lecturer will pick up a student to present the selected topic to the colleagues. Assessment: A: 100% - 92% B: 91% - 84% C: 83% - 76% D: 75% - 68% E: 67% - 60%

FX: 59% - 0%

Scale of assessment (preliminary/final): 36/64

Learning outcomes:

After completing the course, students should be familiar with basic historical, geographical, social and cultural specifics of the countries of the target region as well as with current issues these countries are facing. A graduate of the course will be able to express himself critically and analytically on the possibility of maintaining an integral BaH, the issue of Serbian districts in northern Kosovo, or the position of the Albanian minority in North Macedonia.

Class syllabus:

Breakup of Yugoslavia: economic, geopolitical and systemic reasons. Croatia–Balkan stronghold of catholicism. Bosnia and Herzegovina –divided country and society. Serbia–standing between earthly and heavenly kingdom. Albania – land of legends and blood vengeance. Kosovo –state with contested independence. ICTY –tribunal that was meant to punish and reconcile

Course ID: FiF.KPol/A-moPO-135/22	Course title: From Socialism to the EU Membership - Economic Transformation in Slovakia
Educational activities: Type of activities: lecture / seminar Number of hours: per week: 0 / 2 per level/semester: 0 / 28 Form of the course: on-site learning
Number of credits: 3
Recommended semester: 3., 5.
Educational level: I., II.
Prerequisites:
Antirequisites: FiF.KPol/A-moPO-135/20
Course requirements: 10 % -Active participation 40 % -Presentation (power point)and handout (notes) 50 % -Research paper Presentation–each student should give one short (15-20 minutes with additional 5-10 minutes discussion) presentationduring the course. The students (in a power point presentation) should try to (interestingly) explain the main questions, findings, arguments and conclusions of a chosen issue while focusing on the most important questions and keeping the time limit. A few (3-5) page handout (written summary of the presentation) is required. Max. 20 points could be given for each presentation and another 10 for the quality of power point presentationand the handout. Handout (notes)–summary notes are required from each student. The notes should be prepared according to the course schedule and given (in a printed form) to the lecturer and shared with other students. They should be informative as much as possible to give an idea to other students about the problem as well as with references on useful sources. Max. 10 points could be given for each summary. Research paper–8 to 12 page paper (Times New Roman, 1.5 times spacing, counted without notes, references, tables and figures) is required on a chosen topic agreed by the instructor. Try to avoid simple descriptions and focuson sources of problems,factors influencing the development,comparisons of countries, reforms, institutions etc. Asking questions, trying to answer them, arguing and drawing down conclusions is what is needed instead of just describing a particular event, some policies orinstitutions (it does not mean a good description is not welcomed). The academic style of writing is highly encouraged and appreciated, simplifications and journalist style should be avoided as much as possible. Max. 50 points couldbe given for the seminar paper. Evaluation: A: 100% - 92% B: 91% - 84% C: 83% - 76%

D: 75% - 68%

E: 67% - 60%

FX: 59% - 0%

Scale of assessment (preliminary/final): 50/50

Learning outcomes:

The aim is to give a general overview of the process of economic transformation of CEE countries (with special accent on Slovakia) from the socialist centrally-planned economies to free market economies integrated to the European Union. The students shall be able to examine and understand the characteristics, nature and structure of economic systems (socialism and capitalism) and the revolutionary and unprecedented transformation processes. Different policy choices, strategies and scope of transition and trajectories of CEE countries (economic development, achievements and failures) will be analysed in detail and using a comparative perspective. We will look at the current state of CEE countries as well: what kind of socio-economic models, capitalisms were created, which countries were more and which less successful and what are the major challenges today. By the end of the course, the students shall be able to understand, evaluate and analyse the basic processes of economic transformation in CEE countries after the fall of the iron curtain. This gives them a valuable knowledge and expertise usable in both the public and private sectors and the academic world as well.

Class syllabus:

Basic paradigms: socialism, capitalism, welfare state, mixed economy

Causes of the collapse of Communism and its economic heritage, need for change

The first round of reforms (privatization, liberalization etc.)

Evaluating the success of reforms: shock therapy or gradualism, comprehensive big bang vs. half or no reforms

The second round of reforms: flat tax revolution, partial pension privatization etc.

The EU integration and its effects

Where are we now? The macroeconomic perspective

Where are we now? The people's perspective, the social effects of transformation processes

Transformation of different sectors of economy (banking, industry, energy etc.)

Current challenges – reverse processes and the crisis of democracy and market economy in CEE

Academic year: 2022/2023
University: Comenius University Bratislava
Faculty: Faculty of Arts
Course ID: FiF.KPol/A-boPO-127/22	Course title: Green Political Theories
Educational activities: Type of activities: lecture / seminar Number of hours: per week: 0 / 2 per level/semester: 0 / 28 Form of the course: on-site learning
Number of credits: 3
Recommended semester: 4., 6.
Educational level: I., II.
Prerequisites:
Antirequisites: FiF.KPol/A-boPO-127/17
Course requirements: The assessment consists of: - Opinions 45% The aim is to answer one of the defined research questions by critically evaluating the knowledge from the required literature: that is, to identify the main argument, definitions, give self-reflection / interpretation, comparison, strengths and weaknesses of texts, formulate questions for discussion, confront real processes. It's not enough to just talk content! The student must submit an opinion for each lesson, for each non-submitted opinion the evaluation is reduced by 10 points. 4 randomly selected opinions will be evaluated. The opinion must be sent no later than the day of the course on the topic in a range of 600 words - Final written test 55% written answers to open-ended questions, formulated on the basis of the covered topics Grading scale: A: 100% - 92% B: 91% - 84% C: 83% - 76% D: 75% - 68% E: 67% - 60% FX: 59% - 0% The teacher will accept a maximum of two absences with documentation Scale of assessment (preliminary/final): 45/55
Learning outcomes: By completing the course, students will gain an overview and understanding of the basic characteristics of environmental political thinking and reflection on the relationship between the "social world" and the environment. Thanks to the knowledge of different streams and arguments of environmental thinking as well as their reflection in traditional ideological systems (liberalism, conservatism, socialism, etc.) they will be able to competently assess not only the arguments of the current discourse on the need to address environmental challenges but also specific current political solutions. Discussing with the invited guest will allow them to gain first-hand experience and practical knowledge of the functioning of environmental activism. They will strengthen their argumentation and critical thinking skills by developing their own opinions. By discussing specific examples of solving current environmental problems, they will gain knowledge about the practical functioning of decision-making processes and its problems in this area.

Class syllabus:

1 / Philosophical foundations of environmentalism, main concepts: Deep ecology, anthropocentrism / biocentrism, social ecology, hybrid approaches.

2 / Limits of growth and sustainable development: Economic growth and limitations of the natural environment, sustainable growth, theory of growth limits, technological solutions to the problem of limited resources. Defining "green growth", sustainability of the industrial economy, ecological modernization

3 / Solutions to environmental problems: Who defines and solves environmental problems: administrative rationalism, democratic pragmatism, economic rationalism.

4 / Environmentalism and political thought: Reflection of environmental topics in the main streams of political thought: liberalism, conservatism, socialism, feminism, anarchism

5 / Green radicalism, a new ideology Two approaches to "green change": green thinking, green society. The position of "green ideologies" on the right-left spectrum.

6 / Green political parties: History of environmental political parties, political influence, share in power.

7 / Environmental activism - environmental policy. Discussion to invited guests.

8 / Global environmental policy: International cooperation in solving environmental problems, international law and institutions.

9 / Thematic area 1: Greenhouse gas emissions, history of CO₂ emissions, political reflection on the problem, international cooperation.

10 / Thematic area 2: Consumption, history of consumption and consumer society, the problem of overconsumption and its solution.

11 / Thematic area 3: Environment and global policy. Environmental problems and socio-economic model, global politics and environmentalism.

Course ID: FiF.KPol/A-boPO-014/15	Course title: Introduction into European Integration
Educational activities: Type of activities: lecture / seminar Number of hours: per week: 2 / 1 per level/semester: 28 / 14 Form of the course: on-site learning
Number of credits: 7
Recommended semester: 5.
Educational level: I.
Prerequisites:
Course requirements: 1. Analytical memos: For every class session, you will be expected to read the assigned readings and write an analytical memo / reflection / literature review 400-600 words long. The purpose is not to summarize the readings. A useful analytical memo will identify key issues that are important for understanding the topic discussed in class in that week, i.e. interesting or innovative aspects; things that catch your attention; issues you find problematic and worthy of critical assessment – in one or more of the assigned texts. As we will have class discussions based on the memos, please formulate a question for class-discussion and be ready to present the key ideas from your memo to the class. 40% 2. Active participation in class discussions: students are expected to get involved in debates, raise issues for discussion, react to comments and questions: 20% 3. Final paper: The research paper is based on rigorous academic research on a topic assigned in session 5. The assigned topic will be broadly formulated and there will be space for narrowing it down to suit your specific interests. The paper is to be 2000 words long (excluding literature and references). Typically, it will be structured as academic papers usually are: introduction outlining the research question, relevance and approach; theory / literature review and methodology section; empirical section; conclusion; references. Harvard style of referencing is fine. Excellent papers will include both a strong theory section and a strong empirical section. I will also accept theoretical / conceptual papers without extensive empirical sections but empirical illustrations of theoretical arguments are welcome. Final papers are to be submitted by e-mail to the instructor by January 5, 2023: 40% A: 100% - 92% B: 91% - 84% C: 83% - 76% D: 75% - 68% E: 67% - 60% FX: 59% - 0% Min. 60%. Scale of assessment (preliminary/final): 60/40

Learning outcomes:

The course reviews some of the recent academic contributions analyzing the emerging nature of the enlarged European Union. Students will deepen their understanding of the changing character of political governance in the EU. They will learn about transformations of statehood in Europe in the context of European integration processes. They will also learn to apply analytical concepts for analyzing developments of the EU as a political entity.

Class syllabus:

What is Europeanization?
 Shaping the EU as a political entity
 Concepts of neo-medievalism and modern statehood in EU analyzes
 The EU as a system of differentiated integration
 Democratic governance in the EU

Educational activities: Type of activities: lecture / seminar Number of hours: per week: 2 / 1 per level/semester: 28 / 14 Form of the course: on-site learning
Number of credits: 7
Recommended semester: 6.
Educational level: I.
Prerequisites:
Course requirements: obtain min. 60% of the total assessment The assessment consists of: active participation in seminars: 30% final written work in the examination period (essay): 70% Students will be evaluated for active participation and complete the course by submitting an essay dedicated to a proposal for a solution to a specific public problem. Students are required to use the knowledge and experience gained during the semester when writing an essay, and in the essay they must present a feasible proposal supported by logical arguments respecting modern principles of public policy making. The evaluation of the essay will primarily take into account the following six criteria: 1) topicality of the public problem (local or even community problems are preferred) 2) completeness of the analysis (eg taking into account relevant actors and their priorities, possible tools and their effects) 3) the degree of respect for the latest governance trends 4) degree of innovation 5) the logic of the argumentation of the whole proposal 6) the degree of assessment and justification of the feasibility of the proposal. Scale of assessment (preliminary/final): 30/70
Learning outcomes: At the course "Public Policy in Slovakia", students will get acquainted with how public policy-making takes place in Slovak conditions at all levels, ie not only at the national level, but also at the regional and local level. Emphasis is placed on recent developments that have determined the current situation, as well as on current trends and expected developments. The aim is to provide students with relevant knowledge about the currently dominant concepts of governance, which are open governance, good governance and participatory public policy-making. Theoretical knowledge is closely linked to practical experience, which is adapted to the list of planned topics and required and recommended literature. Lectures are enriched with invited lectures by practitioners. After completing this course, students will have an overview of the institutional environment of public policy-making in Slovakia, they will be familiar with the principles of the latest trends in governance, respectively administration and at the same time get the opportunity to get acquainted with a whole set of relevant practical examples reflecting good practice. An integral part of the course are also lectures outside the university environment (with collaborating partners) and an excursion that allows students to gain a deeper understanding of a selected socially sensitive topic.

Class syllabus:

1 / Institutional environment of public policy making in Slovakia and its recent development 2 / Participatory public policy making and use of this approach in Slovakia 3 / Good governance / governance in theory and practice 4 / Open governance as a leading paradigm of current governance in Slovakia 5 / Public policy making at the national level 6 / Public policy making at the local level 7 / Work with excluded or disadvantaged groups and their inclusion in public policy making 8 / Third sector organizations as equal partners of public authorities in public policy making 9 / Excursion 10 / Public budgeting as a determinant of public policy making 11 / Nudging as a "non-invasive" regulation of the behavior of individuals and groups 12 / Evaluation techniques and the importance of evaluation
