Learning outcomes: The aim of this course is to offer an eclectic critical approach to International Political Economy together with selected topics of current interest. We will begin with a discussion about how the IPE is constituted as a discipline and then will discuss what capitalism is by focusing on its beginnings. The question what money is and how it is connected to debt will be answered in the fourth class. Afterwards a basic introduction into the economic and development theories and then economic models will follow together with a critique of these models. Different approaches to economy will include environmental economics, feminist economics and cultural political economy that will include anthropology of economy and postcolonial approach to economy. A more practically oriented classes will deal with the recent discussion about varieties of capitalism in Central and Eastern Europe, with the discussion about the most recent economic crisis. Overall the students should get an overview of the traditional IPE as well as its criticism from various standpoints.
