COURSE DESCRIPTION

Academic year: 2021/2022
University: Comenius University Bratislava
Faculty: Faculty of Arts
Course ID: FiF.KSJ/A-AboSL-62/15	Course title: Grammatical Interpretation of Texts
Educational activities: Type of activities: seminar Number of hours: per week: 2 per level/semester: 28 Form of the course: on-site learning
Number of credits: 3
Recommended semester: 3., 5.
Educational level: I.
Prerequisites:
Course requirements: a. Systematic preparation for classes that is student's individual preparation for the class discussion on a selected topic according to the course programme (e. g. creation of an opinion on a topic discussed in selected paper, searching for the linguistic material, searching for the examples of a grammatical phenomenon in use, ...). b. Final test or colloquium in the 12th or 13th week of semester (the exact date will be announced at the beginning of the semester) Outcomes during the semester are not possible to evaluate more than once. The teacher will accept a maximum of two absences with documentation. Grading scale: A (100 % - 92 %), B (91 % - 84 %), C (83 % - 76 %), D (75 % - 68 %), E (67 % - 60 %). Credits will be given only to student who gets a minimum of the evaluation E (60 %). Infringement of academic policy will result in annulment of the evaluation. Scale of assessment (preliminary/final): 100 % preliminary
Learning outcomes: After completing the course, a student has broadened the knowledge in the field of Slovak language grammar that previously gained in courses dealing with morphosyntax of the language. The student has learned how to analyse functionality of some language phenomena in actual context and according to the need of members of the communication besides correctness of grammatical aspect of the text. Moreover, he is capable to search for linguistic material and follow the communication behaviour of the engaged parties. The students manage to apply the gained knowledge in teaching experience, science, language counselling and own creative work.
Class syllabus: Grammatical analysis and interpretation. Markedness and unmarkedness of grammatical categories in selected context. Grammatical forms to refer to deixis of a specific person, place, and time. Word order, Sentence order, text coherence. Current problems of the Slovak language speakers (to be set according to preferences of a study group e. g.: declension of foreign words, feminine noun formation, the use of verb tenses in communication, transposition of verb categories of person and number).

Educational activities: Type of activities: lecture / seminar Number of hours: per week: 1 / 1 per level/semester: 14 / 14 Form of the course: on-site learning
Number of credits: 3
Recommended semester: 1., 3., 5.
Educational level: I.
Prerequisites:
Course requirements: During the semester: active participation (10 points), home works (20 points), tests during the semester (20 points); Final assessment: comprehensive test (50 points); Grading A: 100 - 92, B: 91 - 84, C: 83 - 76, D: 75 - 68, E: 67 - 60, FX: 59 - 0 pts. Scale of assessment (preliminary/final): 50/50
Learning outcomes: Students will be informed on the basics in logical analysis of natural language as condition for successful studying of professional texts and on arguments contained in them. They need to comprehend basic syntactical and semantical aspects of natural language and to be acquainted with basics of propositional and predicate logic as well as with rules of valid inference. They will be acquainted with: tools for compacting texts, obtaining practice in their reconstruction; non-deductive forms of inference and the most known forms of eristic arguments; basic knowledge related to theory of definition and theory of questions and answers.
Class syllabus: Language and its functions; language as codification of meaning. Singular and general expressions (properties and relations). Subject and predicate of sentence. Syntactical structure of atomic and molecular terms. Modalities in language, kinds and their function; intuitive understanding of state of affairs. Concept vs. representation, expressing concepts by language and relations among them. Semantically conditioned relations among terms. Modifiers and kinds of them; fuzzy terms. Argumentation, arguments; structure of arguments; deductive arguments. Propositional logic – syntax and semantics. Principle of compositionality for propositions. Propositional connectives in natural language. Propositional logical implication – basic rules of correct inference. Inference in natural language. Expressing of necessary and sufficient condition (promises, legal regulations, causes). Tools for text compacting. Predicate logic. Expressing generality in natural language. Application of basic predicate logic rules to inference in natural language. Abductive inferences and searching for the best explanation. Argument fallacies and eristic arguments. Definitions. Questions; presuppositions and false questions; types of answers.

Prerequisites:
Recommended prerequisites: They are not prerequisites
Course requirements: Violation of academic ethics will be punished, and the student will lose all the received points in the relevant assessment. During the semester, each student will present a paper; students may receive a maximum of 30 points for the preparation and presentation of the paper, and must receive a minimum of 10 points to be admitted to the examination. An oral examination follows the end of the semester, for which a student may obtain a maximum of 70 points. The instructors will accept a maximum of 2 absences with documented evidence. The exact date and topic of the midterm evaluation will be announced at the beginning of the semester. An oral examination will follow the end of the semester, for which the student may obtain a maximum of 70 points. Grading scale: 100-92: A 91-86: B 85-77: C 76-66: D 65-60: E 59 - 0: FX Scale of assessment (preliminary/final): The weighting of the interim/final evaluation is 30/70
Learning outcomes: The student will acquire basic operational concepts such as aesthetic attitude, aesthetic distance, aesthetic function, aesthetic norm and aesthetic value, which in interaction with each other serve as a means of explication of the target concept of aesthetic. In addition, the student is introduced to basic definitions of art, with an emphasis on those definitions of art that have fundamentally influenced thinking about art, such as basic mimetic, functional-structuralist, anti-essentialist, institutional, and cluster definitions of art.
Class syllabus: 1. Introduction 2. Aesthetics as a science of sense perception or aesthetics as a philosophy of art 3. Aesthetics and anaesthetics 4. Meaning of aesthetics, aesthetic attitude 5. Aesthetic function 6. Aesthetic norm 7. Aesthetic value 8. Art as mimesis I. - Plato 9. Art as mimesis II - Aristotle 10. Mimesis II - Pliny the Elder and Giorgio Vasari 11. Kant, Schelling and Hegel - definitions of art 12. Mukařovský's definition of art 13. Institutional definitions of art

Educational activities: Type of activities: lecture / seminar Number of hours: per week: 1 / 1 per level/semester: 14 / 14 Form of the course: on-site learning
Number of credits: 5
Recommended semester: 6.
Educational level: I.
Prerequisites:
Recommended prerequisites: This subject is related to the course Aesthetic Theory and develops thinking about art in the sense that it presents art as a language, as a modelling system that serves as a means of communication between the author and the perceiver. In addition, the basic concepts that specify the sign nature of the language of art are gradually explicated.
Course requirements: Violation of academic ethics will be punished, and the student will lose all the received points in the relevant assessment. During the semester, each student will present a paper; students may receive a maximum of 30 points for the preparation and presentation of the paper, and must receive a minimum of 10 points to be admitted to the examination. An oral examination follows the end of the semester, for which a student may obtain a maximum of 70 points. The instructors will accept a maximum of 2 absences with documented evidence.
