Class syllabus: The aim of the course JAZZ HARMONY is to understand the harmonious language of contemporary jazz music in the context of the development of the harmony of European classical music, but also in the context of multicultural influences. We point out the differences in the usual terminology in our country and in the world, but also the development of the harmonious thinking of jazz musicians on a domestic and global scale. By analyzing the compositions of selected authors and performers of jazz, we try to outline a systematic classification of rules, principles and regularities of harmonic structures, which are an organic part of jazz music and its natural part - jazz improvisation. The most important value of jazz music is the phenomenon of spontaneity, bringing unique and surprising moments, music "between notes", which is often not possible to grasp with rational composition techniques, even notation. The combination of intellect and emotionality, individuality of personality and collective spontaneity ensures the constant progress of her musical development. The content of the course JAZZ HARMONY are the following areas: 1, Problem areas, current state of affairs - reflections on jazz harmony in domestic and world literature, Berklee methodology, the situation in the field of literature and education in Czechoslovakia before 1989, domestic book
