Course requirements: The student will receive 100 points from the overall assessment on an ongoing basis based on active participation in the seminar, preparation of assignments and exercises as well as other required work in the seminar arising from the material covered and short tests in the areas of listening comprehension, speaking, reading comprehension and writing. Credit will not be awarded to a student who scores less than 60 points on the overall assessment. Grading scale: 100-90: A 89-85: B 84-75: C 74-70: D 69-60: E 59-0: FX A maximum of 2 absences is accepted. Scale of assessment (preliminary/final): continual assessment: 100
Learning outcomes: Upon the completion of the course, the student will be able to master the basic common written and spoken communication in the French language. The content of the material covered is based on the Common European Framework of Reference for languages, in this course it is level A1 (the student is not required to have any prior knowledge of the French language). The student understands and can use familiar everyday expressions and the basic vocabulary intended to meet specific needs. He/she can introduce himself/herself and others and can ask and answer questions such as where he/she lives, people he/she knows and things he/she owns. The student can lead simple conversations provided the communication partner speaks slowly and is ready to help. In the courses, the 4 basic language competences are developed in parallel: comprehension (listening/reading), speaking (oral interaction/independent oral expression), writing and grammar.
Class syllabus: 1. Greetings and introducing oneself (alphabet) 2. Adjectives of nationalities, feminine and masculine genders, numerals

3. Telling basic personal details about oneself and ask for information - verbs to be and to have and negation
4. Determiners, first verb group, plural nouns
6. To talk about one's city and country (orientation in space and prepositions)
7. Question using est-ce que, second verb group, feminine and masculine professions
8. Writing a postcard (lexical expressions linked to emotions, formal address)
9. Plural adjectives and describing the weather
10. Hobbies - verbs to do and to go
11. Telling the time, reflexive verbs, days of the week
12. Describing a person (semi-auxiliary verbs can, want, have, know, vocabulary for characterizing a person)

Recommended literature:

The teacher provides the students with his/her own materials, works with the latest textbooks and teaching aids, adapting them to the group and the students' interest.

Scale of assessment (preliminary/final): Evaluation of the subject (continuous/final) 30/70
Learning outcomes: After completing the course, the student has a basic orientation in the concepts and methods of comparative literature research, necessary for its study from the areal aspect. The graduate is oriented in the issues of literary reception, the position of literature within culture, intercultural relations, national and transnational communities, issues of literary translation, the relationship between literature and art, thematology and imagology, and deepens the theoretical knowledge acquired in previous courses devoted to issues of theory and study of literature. He/she is able to use them practically in the critical reading of a literary work, learning to perceive the overlaps of literature and its narrative value for the critical perception of the life world. The acquired knowledge will enable to improve the quality of editorial, translation and pedagogical literary practice.
Class syllabus: 1. Brief overview of the development of the concept of literary comparatistics 2. World literature and the literary canon vs. circulation and reception of literary works 3. World literature and translation 4. Close reading and distant reading (aggregation of "big data") 5. Inter-literary communities

6. Postcolonial Studies and Subaltern Studies
7. Comparatist imagology - the image of the foreign and the own in literary works, the emergence of stereotypes and their literary form - the perception of ethnicities, nations and social groups through literary texts.
- 8.-12. Comparative analysis of selected works of world literature on the basis of the above methods

STATE EXAM DESCRIPTION

Academic year: 2021/2022
University: Comenius University Bratislava
Faculty: Faculty of Arts
Course ID: FiF.KRom/A-moRO-099/21	Course title: Obhajoba diplomovej práce
Number of credits: 15
Educational level: II.
Course requirements: The student must submit the master's thesis within the deadline specified in the schedule of the current academic year for the relevant date of the state exam. The master's thesis is submitted in electronic form via AIS. The work must meet the parameters determined by the internal quality system of Comenius University. The provisions of Article 14 of Internal Regulation no. 5/2020 (Study Regulations of the Faculty of Arts of Comenius University) apply to the evaluation of the master's thesis. The supervisor of the final thesis and its opponent will prepare evaluations of the master's thesis and propose a grade in the A-FX grading scale, which the student receives a minimum of three working days before the defence. Grading scale: 0-59% -FX, 60-67% -E, 68-75% -D, 76-83% -C, 84-91% -B, 92-100% -A Master's thesis evaluation criteria: 1. The contribution of the master's thesis, the fulfilment of the goals of the thesis in its assignment, and the requirements for the content of the master's thesis given by the internal quality system of Comenius University. The following is assessed: demonstration of knowledge and skills, ability to work creatively in the study program, ability applied in the collection, interpretation, and processing of basic scientific literature; in the case of an empirically oriented master's thesis also mastering the application of theoretical principles in practice and verifiability of hypotheses. 2. Originality of the work (master's thesis must not be plagiarized, must not infringe the copyrights of other authors); the documentation for the defence of the master's thesis also includes protocols of originality from the CRZP and Theses systems, to the results of which the thesis supervisor and the opponent express their opinions in their evaluations. 3. Correctness and accuracy of citation of used information sources, research results of other authors and group authors, correctness of the description of methods and working procedures of other authors or group authors. 4. Compliance of the structure of the master's thesis with the prescribed composition defined by the internal quality system of Comenius University. 5. Respecting the recommended length of the master's thesis (the recommended length of the master's thesis is usually 30 – 40 standard pages = 54,000 to 72,000 characters, including spaces), the adequacy of the length of the thesis is assessed by the thesis supervisor. 6. Linguistic and stylistic level of work and formal adjustments. The student orally presents the content, achieved goals, and conclusions of the master's thesis, and answers the questions and comments of the thesis supervisor, opponent, or members of the examination committee. The committee will comprehensively evaluate the quality of the master's thesis, assess the method and form of defence, and the student's ability to adequately respond to comments and questions from the evaluations of the thesis supervisor and the opponent. The student receives their final grade based on the average of the assessment of the thesis supervisor and opponent from their evaluations, and the assessment of the examination committee.

Scale of assessment (preliminary/final): Scale of assessment (preliminary/final): 0/100
Learning outcomes: The student has mastered the basic requirements of writing a scientific text in compliance with the rules of academic ethics, is able to work creatively in the field of study in which he completed the study program, and has adequate knowledge and understanding of the relevant issues. The student can apply his skills in the collection, interpretation, and processing of basic scientific literature, or even in its application in practice, or has the ability to solve a partial task related to the focus of the master's thesis. After a successful defence of the master's thesis, the student is able to logically deal with the theoretical background of the master's thesis and respond to questions relating to the relevant issues.
Class syllabus: 1. The student presents the master's thesis in front of the committee for state exams, the opponent of the master's thesis, and those present. 2. The student responds to comments and questions in the evaluations. 3. The student responds to the questions of the committee for state exams or the questions in a broader debate.
State exam syllabus: The student's ability to defend his/her own procedures, methodology and critical thinking, which he/she has used in the independent creative activity in writing the master's thesis, will be verified.

Educational activities: Type of activities: lecture / seminar Number of hours: per week: 1 / 1 per level/semester: 14 / 14 Form of the course: on-site learning
Number of credits: 4
Recommended semester: 1.
Educational level: II.
Prerequisites:
Antirequisites: FiF.KRom/A-mpFR-019/13
Course requirements: a) during the semester, the student will receive 30 points of the overall evaluation on a continuous basis based on active work in class (research, reading and preparation of texts, reading of theoretical accompanying texts related to the given issue), b) in the examination period, the student will receive 70 points for the final written work (analysis of a linguistic phenomenon in French and in Slovak, according to the phenomena covered). The student will be given a choice of topic to work on according to the teacher's instructions in the examination period. The topics of the written work are regularly updated. Credits will not be awarded to students who receive less than 60 points of the overall evaluation based on the average calculated from their work in class and the final written work. Grading scale: 100-90: A 89-85: B 84-75: C 74-70: D 69-60: E 59-0: FX The teacher will accept a maximum of two absences. The date and topics of the final work will be announced through AIS no later than in the last week of the instruction period. Scale of assessment (preliminary/final): Scale of assessment (preliminary/final): 30/70
Learning outcomes: Since the student only deals with some selected phenomena of French grammar during the semester, they have a broad knowledge and theoretical understanding of these phenomena, which confronts the description of the phenomena by several grammarians or linguists. Based on the analysis of French texts and the creation of a comparative corpus, the student can grasp the linguistic phenomenon in the context of its functioning in French and its linguistic expression in Slovak. After successfully completing the course, the student is sensitive to the linguistic phenomena of French grammar and applies their knowledge in their further linguistic practice (e.g., in translation and interpreting, in teaching French as a foreign language, in editorial work, or in comparing the original and the translation, etc.).

Class syllabus:

During the semester, the seminar focuses on two or three phenomena of the French language, mainly phenomena that cause difficulties for Slovak students regarding their mother tongue. The class syllabus is adapted to the selection of the phenomena in question. The phenomena studied include, for example:

1. The position of adverbs in a sentence
2. The article and its functions within the nominal syntagm
3. The impersonal pronoun “on” and its expression in Slovak
4. Negation in French
5. Expressing the past

A particular linguistic unit is discussed:

1. In practical exercises
2. As a subject of scientific research in scientific texts
3. As the subject of grammatical explanation
4. As a unit of analysis in a French text
5. In the comparison of the original text and its translation (the Slovak expression of the unit)

Recommended literature:

Academic year: 2021/2022
University: Comenius University Bratislava
Faculty: Faculty of Arts
Course ID: FiF.KRom/A-moRO-136/21	Course title: Using of French Language Corpora in Teaching and Editing practice
Educational activities: Type of activities: seminar Number of hours: per week: 2 per level/semester: 28 Form of the course: on-site learning
Number of credits: 3
Recommended semester: 1.
Educational level: II.
Prerequisites:
Course requirements: a) during the semester, the student will receive 50 points of the overall evaluation on a continuous basis based on active participation in class, preparation of assignments and exercises in the Aranea language corpora as well as other required work in the seminar that arises from the material covered, b) in the examination period, the student will receive 50 points for the final written work based on the work with the corpus and the analysis of the search results. The student will submit this work in the examination period. The student will be given a choice of topic to work on as instructed by the teacher in the examination period. The topics of the written work are updated regularly. Credits will not be awarded to students who receive less than 60 points of the overall evaluation based on the average calculated from the work class and the final written paper. Grading scale: 100-90: A 89-85: B 84-75: C 74-70: D 69-60: E 59-0: FX The teacher will accept a maximum of two absences. The date and topics of the final work will be announced through AIS no later than in the last week of the instruction period. Scale of assessment (preliminary/final): Scale of assessment (preliminary/final): 50/50
Learning outcomes: After completing the course, the student is able to work independently with the Aranea language corpora with a focus on French and Slovak. The acquired knowledge can also be used when working with other electronic language corpora. The work with Aranea corpora is aimed both at deepening the knowledge and skills in the practical mastery of the French language, and the student perceives the corpus as a very good tool in the work of a philologist and editor (creating glossaries, checking phenomena in context, comparing translation solutions in the corpus, etc.), as well as in the work of a foreign language teacher, where the language corpus has a variety of uses (creating exercises, illustrative material, reflective grammar, etc.).

Class syllabus:

1. The French article and its symptomatic use: analysis of the context of the occurrence of article and the production of comparative materials
2. Creation of translation exercises
3. Adjective position and change of meaning
4. Working with the Slovak corpus: comparison/translation
5. Gender and change of noun meaning, creation of semantic fields through collocations, preparation of didactic materials
6. French past tenses in translation into Slovak
7. The question of verbal aspect, observation of adverbs and verbs
8. Verb and preposition (creation of glossaries of prepositional constructions with verb and observation of their meanings, use of multilevel frequency distribution, preparation of didactic materials)
9. Analysis of the occurrence of neologisms and anglicisms in the Slovak and French corpus
10. Substandard vocabulary in French
11. Analysis of established phrases in French
12. Creation of glossaries of idioms, translation exercises, preparation of didactic materials

Recommended literature:

There is no need to study the literature. The course follows the Introduction to Corpus Linguistics seminar, and the instructor provides students with the necessary materials for each specific task within the language corpus.

Languages necessary to complete the course:

French language (level C1), Slovak language
