COURSE DESCRIPTION

Academic year: 2022/2023
University: Comenius University Bratislava
Faculty: Faculty of Arts
Course ID: FiF.KPg/A-muSZ-001/22	Course title: Diagnosing in Pedagogy
Educational activities: Type of activities: lecture Number of hours: per week: 2 per level/semester: 28 Form of the course: on-site learning, distance learning
Number of credits: 2
Recommended semester: 2.
Educational level: D, II.
Prerequisites:
Antirequisites: FiF.KPg/A-muSZ-001/15
Course requirements: Minimum success rate: 60 percent Continuous assessment (teaching part): - 20% active participation in the seminar - 40% presentation in class Final rating: - 40% final test Classification scale: A (100-92), B (91-84), C (83-76), D (75-68), E (67-60), FX (59% or less). Two absences are acceptable; seminar assignments must all be developed, presented and submitted. The exact date and topics of the mid-term evaluation will be announced at the beginning of the semester. Exam dates will be announced no later than the last week of the training section. Scale of assessment (preliminary/final): 60/40
Learning outcomes: After completing the course, the student has the knowledge and skills needed to conduct action research in the classroom, along with the use of the necessary diagnostic methods to determine the diagnosis of the student (s); can express a pedagogical measure and a presumption about the further development of the pupil (s).
Class syllabus: 1. Diagnostics and diagnosis. 2. Processive aspects of diagnostics. 3. Action research as a specific professional activity of a teacher. 4. Observation methods. 5. Interview. 6. Products of students' activities and their use. 7. Children's drawing and its diagnostic use. 8. Concept map. 9. Sociometry and social climate measurement. 10. Didactic tests. 11. Methods of student evaluation. 12. Methods of testing students. 13. Evaluation of conditions and results of school and teacher work.

STATE EXAM DESCRIPTION

Academic year: 2022/2023
University: Comenius University Bratislava
Faculty: Faculty of Arts
Course ID: FMFLKDMFI/2-UMA-951/15	Course title: Didactics of Mathematics
Number of credits: 3
Educational level: II.
Learning outcomes: The graduate will be ready to perform the tasks assigned to a beginning math teacher.
Class syllabus: State final examination in the scope of master's study of mathematics didactics. The student should be able to include the task in the thematic unit, identify preconceptions and the necessary knowledge to solve it, determine the skills that the student will learn on it, respectively. concepts that allows you to discover. The student will demonstrate a model solution, point out problematic places in the solution with which students could have problems and how he would react to them as a teacher. After completing the task, the student should outline the activities that would follow and how he would close the lesson.
State exam syllabus: 1. Logic and sets Logic (propositions, operations with propositions, logical conjunctions and quantifiers), sets (number of elements of unification of two and three sets, De Morgan's formulas for complement of unification and intersection), proofs and conclusions (direct and indirect proofs, proofs by dispute, mathematical induction, mode ponens, modus tollens). 2. Numbers, variables, numerical fields Binomial theorem and Pascal's triangle, derivation of formulas $a^n - b^n$ (including geometric interpretation for $n = 2$ and $n = 3$). 3. Number theory Number of prime numbers, relation of largest common divisor and smallest common multiple of two numbers, prime decomposition number of number divisors, irrationality of the square root of a prime number, derivation of divisibility criteria 4, 5, 10, 100, 3, 6, 9. 4. Equations, inequalities and their system Geometric interpretation of a system of two linear equations with two unknowns, conditions for the existence of solutions, equivalent and non-equivalent modifications and their relation to basic functions. 5. Function and its properties Basic transformations of function graphs, definitions of basic properties of functions (domain of definition, domain of values, increasing and decreasing, extrema and local extrema - sharp and fuzzy, examples), inverse function and its graph. 6. Linear and quadratic function Significance of coefficients k and q in the formula of the linear function $y = kx + q$, geometric meaning of the directive, quadratic function (derivation of the relation for calculating roots, coordinates of the vertex of the parabola). 7. Arithmetic and geometric sequence, infinite (geometric) series Basic relationship management.

8. Polynomials, power functions and linear polynomials

Root factors and their relation to the roots of a polynomial equation, square roots as inverse functions to power functions, definition of a rational power of a positive number, linear polynomial function (derivation of asymptote equations and conditions why $ad \neq bc$).

9. Exponential and logarithmic functions

Exponential functions (definition of power for natural, integer and rational exponent, basic properties of exponential function and their justification, simple and compound interest, regular deposits and withdrawals, loan repayments), definition of logarithm, rules for calculating logarithms and their connection with creation of exponential function, relationships between logarithms with different bases.

10. Trigonometric functions

Definition of trigonometric functions in a right triangle and using a unit circle and their mutual relation, values of trigonometric functions for basic angles, accounting formulas, formulas for double and half angle, relations for sum and difference of trigonometric functions.

11. Triangle

Consistency and similarity of triangles, Pythagorean and Euclidean theorems, different relations for the content of a triangle (Heron's formula, using sinus of angle, radius of inscribed and described circle), derivation of statements about intersections of angles, axes of sides, lines, heights, sine and cosine theorem.

12. Parallelograms and trapezoid

Derivation of formulas for the content of parallelograms and trapezoids, derivation of some of their properties the diagonals of a quadrilateral with sides a, b, c, d are perpendicular to each other just when $a^2 + c^2 = b^2 + d^2$).

13. Circle

Formula for the content of a circle and a paragraph, size in degrees and radians, center and circumferential angle, Tales' theorem, estimation of the number π using written and described n -gons, related to trigonometric functions.

14. Analytical geometry in the plane and in space

Vectors and operations with them, scalar product and its relation to the angle of two vectors, analytical expression of a line and a plane, various equations of a line, derivation of coordinates of the center of a line and a dividing line in a given ratio, center of a triangle, size of a line, derivation of a formula lines and from the plane, angle of two lines (using scalar product, using directives), angle of line and plane, normal vector.

15. Sets of points of given properties and their analytical expression

Derivation of "basic" sets of points of a given property (including a set of points from which a line can be seen at a given angle).

16. Conic sections

Definitions of conic sections (circle, ellipse, hyperbola and parabola) as sets of points of given properties and derivation of their equations.

17. Suitable and similar representations, construction tasks

Examples of design tasks solved by a combination of calculation and construction, the use of sets of points of given properties in design tasks, examples of design tasks solved using identical and similar representations.

18. Basic ways of displaying space in a plane

Basic properties of parallel projection, hint of their justification, linear perspective and its basic properties, layers and their basic properties.

19. Linear formations in space - positional problems

Use of basic statements about the intersections of a pair of parallel ones planes with another plane when constructing sections of bodies by a plane.

20. Solids Cavalieri's principle and its application e.g. to calculate the volume of a sphere, a formula for calculating the volume of pyramids and cones, the idea of justifying the formula for the surface of a sphere. 21. Combinatorics Combinatorial identities, basic combinatorial rules (sum, product), typical examples of their use, derivation of formulas for the number of variations, combinations, permutations (also with repetition), combinatorial derivation of basic relations in the Pascal triangle (symmetry, sum of minor elements). 22. Probability Statistical and Laplace definition of probability, dependent and independent events, calculation of probability for independent events, geometric probability and an example of its use. 23. Statistics Statistical set and position measures (modus, median, mean), basic properties of the arithmetic mean (sum of deviations from the mean is equal to 0), various possibilities of describing the "scatter" of the set, Chebyshev's inequality.

Academic year: 2022/2023
University: Comenius University Bratislava
Faculty: Faculty of Arts
Course ID: FMFI.KDMFI/2-UMA-104/22	Course title: Didactics of Mathematics (1)
Educational activities: Type of activities: seminar Number of hours: per week: 3 per level/semester: 42 Form of the course: on-site learning
Number of credits: 4
Recommended semester: 1.
Educational level: II., N
Prerequisites:
Course requirements: Continuous assessment: group homework, reading of scientific articles, discussion of articles and the specified topic, group work on a lesson plan described for each group in the assignment. The student must obtain at least 50% of the continuous assessment and each assignment must be evaluated with a non-zero number of points. Final evaluation: oral exam, individual preparation of a lesson plan and its presentation Indicative assessment scale: A 94%, B 86%, C 79%, D 70%, E 60%, Fx <60% Scale of assessment (preliminary/final): 60/40
Learning outcomes: The student will gain an overview of didactic theories, will be able to critically evaluate them and use the appropriate methods and forms. Through activities at the seminar, they will acquire modern teaching techniques that are a prevention of formal knowledge and misconceptions in mathematics. The study of scientific and research articles and the subsequent discussion or authentic experience will give graduates a better insight into the issues of inclusive school, creating preparations for the lesson (or sequence) and asking "good questions".
Class syllabus: The language of mathematics, its historical development and didactic significance. A parallel between phylogeny and ontogeny of mathematical thinking. Conceptual and cognitive process in mathematics. Principles, means and forms of teaching in mathematics. Objectives of the teaching process in mathematics. Learning theories. Lesson preparation and its starting points. Resources and their use in preparation, during teaching in evaluation. Hypothetical learning trajectories.

COURSE DESCRIPTION

Academic year: 2022/2023
University: Comenius University Bratislava
Faculty: Faculty of Arts
Course ID: FiF.KPol/A-bpSZ-25/22	Course title: Introduction into Economics
Educational activities: Type of activities: seminar Number of hours: per week: 2 per level/semester: 28 Form of the course: on-site learning
Number of credits: 3
Recommended semester: 1.
Educational level: II.
Prerequisites:
Antirequisites: FiF.KPol/A-bpSZ-25/15 FiF.KPol/A-boPO-003/15 FiF.KPol/A-boPO-003/22
Course requirements: The assessment consists of: 10% Attendance at seminars (preliminary assessment) 90% Final written test with the possibility of an oral re-examination (in the examination period) Grading scale: A: 100% - 92% B: 91% - 84% C: 83% - 76% D: 75% - 68% E: 67% - 60% FX: 59% - 0% To obtain credits, it is necessary to obtain min. 60% of the total assessment Scale of assessment (preliminary/final): 10/90
Learning outcomes: The aim of the course is to provide students with a basic overview of economic institutions, their origin and evolution, as well as the most important theories and concepts in economics. Students will understand the basic economic concepts, their historical development, current significance as well as the mechanism of operation of economic transactions and economic policy instruments. Upon successful completion of this course, students should understand common economic phenomena, the functioning of economic institutions (such as banks, money, bonds, stock exchanges, trading companies and various financial products), basic economic indicators and thus understand most economic news.
Class syllabus: 1 / Introduction - economic systems: socialism and capitalism - planned and market economy, current welfare states and mixed economies 2 / Economic systems: socialism and capitalism-economic transition / transformation from planned to market economy

- 3 / Banking and money - evolution and typology of money, functions and properties of money, monetary policy and monetarist theory
- 4 / Public finances - deficits, debts and state bankruptcies. Government bonds and bond markets. Fiscal institutions.
- 5 / Modern trading companies - joint stock companies with limited liability. Stocks, stock markets, stock exchanges, financial bubbles and crises.
- 6 / Insurance, pension and hedge funds, financial derivatives, welfare states. Classical typology of welfare states, socio-economic models and variations of capitalism.
- 7 / Real estate markets and mortgage markets. State institutions - economic policy instruments.
- 8 / Big debates I .: What is the wealth of nations? Free trade or protectionism? Mercantilists versus classical liberalism. Economic and financial globalization. Trade and currency wars.
- 9 / Great debates II .: Laissez faire versus interventionism - liberalism or (neo) classical economics versus keynesianism / keynesianism. The role of competition in economic growth.
- 10 / Big Debates III .: Why are some countries rich and some poor? Various explanations, the role of institutions. Ownership rights, law enforcement and the rule of law (rule of law) as a cornerstone of the success of capitalism
- 11 / Big Debates III .: Why are some countries rich and some poor? Different explanations, the role of culture, religion, value orientations and traditions.

COURSE DESCRIPTION

Academic year: 2022/2023
University: Comenius University Bratislava
Faculty: Faculty of Arts
Course ID: FiF.KPol/A-muFI-033/15	Course title: Introduction into Political Science
Educational activities: Type of activities: seminar Number of hours: per week: 3 per level/semester: 42 Form of the course: on-site learning
Number of credits: 5
Recommended semester: 1.
Educational level: II.
Prerequisites:
Antirequisites: FiF.KPol/A-boPO-001/22
Course requirements: - Active participation in the seminar: participation in the seminar is graded, provided that the student is actively involved in the discussion and properly performs the seminar tasks. 10% - Continuous assignments: the aim of continuous assignments is to process the assigned task with the help of professional literature and through it to apply the knowledge of agreement in their own academic practice. The assignments are specified below (including submission deadlines). The deadlines for the elaboration of assignments are strictly given in advance. Assignments are submitted electronically via the Moodle platform. 25% - Written test: The aim of the written test is to test the knowledge of students acquired in the thematic areas of this course. Skills within the seminar part of the course will not be tested through a test. 25% - Final written exam: (hereinafter also exam) takes the form of written work and is key in this course. Through the elaboration of the thesis, the student demonstrates mastering not only the skills of academic writing, but also an understanding of basic political science concepts. The student is required to work critically and academically on a selected topic. The seminar paper must be processed in the range of 4 standard pages (1000 words, including spaces), while compliance with the formal requirements in its elaboration is considered a matter of course (non-compliance with them entitles the teacher to reject the thesis). 40% A: 100% - 92% B: 91% - 84% C: 83% - 76% D: 75% - 68% E: 67% - 60% FX: 59% - 0% Scale of assessment (preliminary/final): 60/40
Learning outcomes: The course is intended for students of the Faculty of Arts, Comenius. The aim of the course is to introduce the most important concepts of political science and political analysis. Course evaluation consists of testing the acquired knowledge and academic skills. Upon successful completion of this course, students should be able to find answers to the following questions: What areas of current events is political science dealing with? By what means does it study these phenomena? How do we write about given phenomena in political science?

Prerequisites:
Course requirements: Active participation in classes (max. 3 documented absences), preliminary knowledge test in the middle of the instruction period of the semester (max. number of points: 20), final written exam (max. number of points: 30). Total assessment: max. number of points: 50. (100-92% - A, 91-84% - B, 83-76 – C, 75-68 - D, 67-60 – E). Violation of academic ethics may result in the cancellation of the points scored in the relevant assessment item. Scale of assessment (preliminary/final): 100% preliminary
Learning outcomes: After successfully completing the course, students have knowledge of the basic concepts and methods of elementary quantum mechanics. They are able to apply them quantitatively to simple (one-dimensional, one-particle) cases.
Class syllabus: 1. Basic characteristics of classical physics. 2. From classical physics to quantum physics - key problems and experiments: black body radiation (M. Planck), photoelectric phenomenon (A. Einstein). 3. From classical physics to quantum physics - key problems and experiments: Compton's phenomenon, models of the atom (J. J. Thomson, E. Rutherford, N. Bohr). 4. Basic concepts of probability theory and statistics: probability density, average value, variance, standard deviation. 5. Complex numbers and complex functions in quantum theory. 6. The wave function and Schrödinger equation. 7. The wave and particle image. 8. Born's statistical interpretation of the wave function. 9. One-dimensional single-particle quantum mechanics: Free particle 10. One-dimensional single-particle quantum mechanics: Particle in the potential well. 11-12. Quantum harmonic oscillator.

Violation of academic ethics may result in the cancellation of the points scored in the relevant assessment item. Scale of assessment (preliminary/final): 100% preliminary Learning outcomes: After successfully completing the course, students have a deeper insight into the mathematical structure and the system of postulates of non-relativistic quantum mechanics. They understand the philosophical problems associated with the interpretation of quantum mechanics. They have the mathematical skills necessary to understand not only quantum mechanics, but also much of the exact sciences, and are therefore able to address questions of the philosophy of science at an advanced level.
Class syllabus: 1. Postulates of quantum mechanics - introduction and comparison with classical mechanics. 2. Postulates of quantum mechanics - analysis of the main physical concepts. 3. Mathematical apparatus of quantum mechanics: Differential equations. 4. Mathematical apparatus of quantum mechanics: The basics of linear algebra. 5. Mathematical apparatus of quantum mechanics: Hilbert space. 6. Mathematical apparatus of quantum mechanics: Operators in quantum mechanics. 7. The generalised Heisenberg uncertainty relation. 8. Position and momentum representation of the state vector. Fourier transforms. 9. Problems of interpretation of quantum mechanics: The "measurement problem", quantum entanglement and the problem of locality. 10. Problems of interpretation of quantum mechanics: ontological/epistemological status of the wave function, wave-particle dualism, determinism vs indeterminism.

STATE EXAM DESCRIPTION

Academic year: 2022/2023
University: Comenius University Bratislava
Faculty: Faculty of Arts
Course ID: FiF.KAA/A-muAN-595/22	Course title: Master's Degree Thesis Defence
Number of credits: 10
Educational level: II.
Antirequisites: FiF.KAA/A-muAN-595/15
Course requirements: All matters pertaining to state examination are set out in Article 14 of the Study Regulations of the Faculty of Arts. In the master's study programmes, the state examination consists only of the defence of the Master's thesis. The student chooses the department as a training centre which corresponds to the discipline within which he/she wants to write the final thesis. He/she reports this choice by the deadline set by the department, provided that he/she is able to find a supervisor and a suitable topic in the relevant department. For the successful defence of the Master's thesis as the subject of the state examination in the master's degree programmes conducted at the Department of British and American Studies, students will receive credits according to the current study plan (currently 10 credits). Requirements for the admission to the defence are as follows: - fulfillment of the requirements of the study plan concerning the prescribed composition of courses and their credit value so that after awarding the credits for the state examination the student obtains the required number of credits for the master's degree; - submission of the Master's thesis (electronically via the academic information system AIS) by the thesis submission deadline corresponding to the relevant state examination period according to the academic year schedule set by the faculty. The thesis is evaluated by the standard grading scale (0-59% -FX, 60-67% -E, 68-75% -D, 76-83% -C, 84-91% -B, 92-100% -A) by the supervisor of the thesis and the designated opponent in the assessment reports, which are available to the student no later than 3 working days before the state examination. The supervisor's report shall also include the percentage of compliance results from the originality check protocols (CRZP, Theses), which must be explicitly evaluated by the supervisor with the wording "the thesis shows/does not show signs of plagiarism". The Master's thesis will take the following form: The defence will consist of a thesis presentation (the student chooses the form of the defence, the PPT format can also be used) and the student's response to a broader theoretical question, which is assigned to the student by the supervisor upon the Master's thesis submission. The supervisor will include this question in the assessment report as one of the points of discussion for the defence; it will also be included in the defence report. The thesis presentation must: - Include a clearly articulated thesis statement, - have a clear and logical structure of argumentation and findings, - reflect a new perspective on the issue as a result of adequate and appropriate work with the findings gained through own research, the conclusions of which the student is able to present and formulate.

The criteria for the evaluation (of the defence) of the Master's thesis at the Department of British and American Studies are as follows: - Quality of the Master's thesis (originality, significance of the analysis, clear formulation of the scientific problem and hypotheses under study, scope of the professional and scientific literature used), - the adequacy of the methodological approach to the topic under study, the analysis logically and coherently answers the research questions, - systematic and logical summary of the results of the analysis, - compliance with citation standards (MLA...), - language level of the presentation (academic language at least at B2 level), - quality of the presentation and communication skills. The evaluation of the thesis will include the areas below with the corresponding weighting (out of 100): PART A: CONTENT • Overall structure and organization (adequacy, scope, objectivity, coherence, cohesion) 15 • Theoretical knowledge related to the research topic 15 • Methodology (identifying concepts, research problems, aims, tasks, choosing adequate methods) 15 • Analysis (quality, depth, complexity) 15 • Originality and contribution (degree of originality, own contribution to knowledge) 10 PART B: FORM • Adequate work with information sources (extent, structure, reliability, adequacy, compliance with a citation style) 15 • Language and style 10 • Typography and layout 5 Scale of assessment (preliminary/final): 0/100 (%)
Learning outcomes: • Upon successful completion of the defence, students will be familiar with the basic requirements for academic writing and with the rules of academic integrity. • They will have mastered the theory of working with sources and have the skills to compile correct bibliographic entries. • They will have understood the principles of writing a Master's thesis, both in terms of form and content, as laid out by the university's regulations. • They will have understood the causes of plagiarism, they will be able to recognize its types and know how to avoid it. • They will have sufficient research skills to obtain, process, and interpret sources. • They will have mastered the basics for writing a Master's thesis. • They will have a deep knowledge of the thesis topic and will be able to approach it both critically and creatively.
Class syllabus: 1. The student presents the Master's thesis in front of the state examination committee, the supervisor and the opponent of the Master's thesis, and those present. 2. The student responds to the comments and questions in the assessments. 3. The student responds to the questions of the state examination committee or the questions in a broader debate. 4. Number of credits: 10
Educational level: II.
Course requirements: The student must submit the master's thesis within the deadline specified in the schedule of the current academic year for the relevant date of the state exam. The master's thesis is submitted in electronic form via AIS. The work must meet the parameters determined by the internal quality system of Comenius University. The provisions of Article 14 of Internal Regulation no. 5/2020 (Study Regulations of the Faculty of Arts of Comenius University) apply to the evaluation of the master's thesis. The supervisor of the final thesis and its opponent will prepare evaluations of the master's thesis and propose a grade in the A-FX grading scale, which the student receives a minimum of three working days before the defence. Grading scale: 0-59% -FX, 60-67% -E, 68-75% -D, 76-83% -C, 84-91% -B, 92-100% -A Master's thesis evaluation criteria: 1. The contribution of the master's thesis, the fulfilment of the objectives of the thesis in its assignment, and the requirements for the content of the master's thesis given by the internal quality system of Comenius University. It is assessed whether the student has worked on the chosen topic at the level of scientific study, with a representative selection of scientific literature, with appropriately chosen scientific procedures and hypotheses that can be verified. Demonstration of the ability to work creatively in the study program is evaluated and the degree of demonstration of knowledge and understanding of the diploma thesis is reflected. 2. Originality of the work (master's thesis must not be plagiarized, must not infringe the copyrights of other authors); the documentation for the defence of the master's thesis also includes protocols of originality from the CRZP and Theses systems, to the results of which the thesis supervisor and the opponent express their opinions in their evaluations. 3. Correctness and accuracy of citation of used information sources, research results of other authors and group authors, correctness of the description of methods and working procedures of other authors or group authors. 4. Compliance of the structure of the master's thesis with the prescribed composition defined by the internal quality system of Comenius University. 5. Respecting the recommended length of the master's thesis (the recommended length of the master's thesis is usually 50 – 70 standard pages = 90,000 to 126,000 characters, including spaces), the adequacy of the length of the thesis is assessed by the thesis supervisor. 6. Linguistic and stylistic level of work and formal adjustments. The student orally presents the content, achieved goals, and conclusions of the master's thesis, and answers the questions and comments of the thesis supervisor, opponent, or members of the examination committee. The committee will comprehensively evaluate the quality of the master's thesis, assess the method and form of defence, and the student's ability to adequately respond to comments and questions from the evaluations of the thesis supervisor and the opponent. The student receives their final grade based on the average of the assessment of the thesis supervisor and opponent from their evaluations, and the assessment of the examination committee. Scale of assessment (preliminary/final): Scale of assessment (preliminary/final): 0/100

Learning outcomes: The student has mastered the basic requirements of writing a scientific text in compliance with the rules of academic ethics. The student knows the methods used in the field of study, is able to work on the chosen topic of the master's thesis at the level of scientific study, with a representative selection of scientific literature, with appropriately chosen scientific procedures and hypotheses that can be verified. After a successful defence of the master's thesis, the student is able to design, implement, critically reflect, and justify his research intention. The student understands the context of the problem, can clearly define research conclusions, state his positions, and make recommendations. He can respond argumentatively and flexibly to questions about the research topic, its methodology, and its conclusions.
Class syllabus: 1. The student presents the master's thesis in front of the committee for state exams, the opponent of the bachelor's thesis, and those present. 2. Educational level: II.
Antirequisites: FiF.KSJ/A-muSL-595/15
Course requirements: Submission of the master's thesis within the deadline specified in the schedule of the current academic year for the relevant date of the state exam. The master's thesis is submitted in electronic form via AIS. The thesis must meet the parameters determined by the internal quality system of the Comenius University. The provisions of Article 14 of the Internal Regulation no. 5/2020 (Study Regulations of the Faculty of Arts, Comenius University) apply to the master's thesis evaluation. The supervisor of the final thesis and its opponent will prepare assessments of the master's thesis and propose an evaluation in the A-FX grading scale, which the student has at his/her disposal min. 3 working days before the defence. Master's thesis evaluation criteria: 1. The contribution of the master's thesis, the fulfilment of the objectives of the thesis and the requirements for the content of the master's thesis given by the internal quality system of the Comenius University. It is assessed whether the student has developed a chosen subject at the level of a scientific study, with a representative selection of professional literature, with appropriately selected scientific procedures and hypotheses that can be verified. Demonstration of the ability to work creatively in the field of study is also assessed, and the degree of demonstration of knowledge and understanding of the master's thesis is reflected. 2. Originality of the thesis (master's thesis must not be plagiarized, must not infringe the copyrights of other authors); the documentation for the defence of the master's thesis also includes protocols of originality from the CRZP and Theses, to the results of which the thesis supervisor and the opponent express their opinions in their assessments. 3. Correctness of citing the selected information sources, research results of other authors and author's collectives, correctness of description of methods and working procedures of other authors or author's collectives. 4. Compliance of the structure of the master's thesis with the prescribed composition defined by the internal quality system of the Comenius University. 5. Respecting the recommended range of the master's thesis (the recommended range of the master's thesis is usually 50 - 70 standard pages = 90,000 to 126,000 characters, including spaces), the adequacy of the range of the thesis is assessed by the thesis supervisor. 6. Linguistic and stylistic level of the thesis and formal layout. The student orally presents the content, achieved goals and conclusions of the master's thesis and answers the questions and comments of the thesis supervisor, opponent, or members of the examination board. The commission will comprehensively evaluate the quality of the master's thesis, assess the method and form of the defence and the student's ability to adequately respond to comments and questions in the assessments of the thesis supervisor and of the opponent. The final evaluation will consider the evaluations from the supervisor's and opponent's assessment, the evaluation of the final thesis defence by the commission.

Scale of assessment (preliminary/final): 0/100
Scale of assessment (preliminary/final): Scale of assessment (preliminary/final): 0/100
Learning outcomes: The student has mastered the basic requirements of writing a professional text in compliance with the rules of academic ethics. He/she knows the methods used in his/her study field, is able to compose the selected subject of the master's thesis on a scientific study level, with a representative selection of professional literature, with appropriately selected scientific procedures and hypotheses that can be verified. After a successful defence of the master's thesis, the student can project, implement, critically reflect on and justify his/her research goal. He/she understands the contexts of the problem to be solved, he/she can clarify his/her research outcomes, form his/her own opinions and suggest recommendations. He/she can argumentatively and promptly react to questions concerning the subject, its methodology and conclusions.
Class syllabus: 1. Presentation of the master's thesis to students with the commission for state exams, opponents of the master's thesis and others present. 2. Student's response to the assessments – comments and questions. 3. Student's response to the commission's questions or questions in the discussion.

Number of credits: 5
Recommended semester: 2., 4.
Educational level: II., III.
Prerequisites:
Course requirements: a) During the instruction period of the semester: during the instruction part of the semester, each student will give a presentation on one compulsory philosophical text of their choice, and in the penultimate week of the instruction part of the semester a test will be written. Students can score a maximum of 100 points for the test, the minimum for passing the course is 60 points. b) In the examination period there is an oral examination. Admission to the oral exam is subject to the submission of a presentation on the analysis of the philosophical text and successful passing of the test. Violation of academic ethics may result in the cancellation of the points scored in the relevant assessment item. Test grading scale: A: 100%-92%; B: 91%-84%; C: 83%-76%; D: 75%-68%; E: 67%-60% FX: 59%-0% The teacher will accept a maximum of two absences with documentation. The exact date of the preliminary assessment will be announced at the beginning of the semester. Dates of oral examination will be published via AIS no later than the last week of the instruction period. Scale of assessment (preliminary/final): preliminary 50%; final 50%
Learning outcomes: After successfully completing the course, students have knowledge of basic metaethical problems and concepts (cognitivist and noncognitivist). They have knowledge of the main representatives of metaethical approaches and argumentation strategies in dealing with moral issues. Students can identify the fundamental problems of metaethics (dichotomy of facts and values / descriptions - prescriptions; naturalistic fallacy), can compare and critically evaluate the different positions. The acquired knowledge of metaethical theories can be used and applied in solving selected moral conflicts (euthanasia, abortion, the problem of health, etc.).
Class syllabus: 1. Metaethics and ethics 2. Sources of metaethical reasoning 3. Semantic aspects of the language of morality

4. Characteristics of noncognitivism 5. Emotivism 6. Prescriptivism 7. Ontological aspects of noncognitivism 8. Characteristics of cognitivism 9. Moral realism 10. Moral naturalism 11. Structure of practice (rationality, emotionality and will) 12. Problems with metaethics

Number of credits: 4
Recommended semester: 1.
Educational level: II.
Prerequisites:
Antirequisites: FiF.KPg/A-muSZ-002/15
Course requirements: The overall evaluation of the student will be given on the basis of the evaluation of their elaboration of the following tasks: during the teaching part of the course (continuously): - Elaboration of continuous tasks and assignments max. 30 b. - Continuous test of knowledge and skills max. 30 b. in the trial period (at the end): - Final test of knowledge and skills max. 40 b. TOTAL max. 100 points Ongoing evaluation: I. EQUIPMENT AND EXERCISES: Tasks and exercises will focus on the ability of students to apply the acquired theoretical knowledge in solving various tasks: finding a topic, research problem, formulation of research goals, research questions, which theories are most often confirmed in pedagogical research - refuted, deduction of theory towards determination of variables and formulation of hypotheses for quantitatively oriented research, research data collection procedures, used methods and tools of data collection, application of research data analysis procedures - scaling, observation sheets, open, axial coding, or thematic analysis on research data mediated by teachers . For the elaboration of tasks and exercises the student will be able to obtain a total of max. 30 points. II. INTERIM TEST: The continuous test will contain test items focused on the curriculum of the first 3 topics / chapters of the compulsory textbook, for which you can collectively obtain max. 30 points. The midterm test will be completed by the student in person or remotely (according to the current epidemiological situation) via the MS Forms application during the semester after taking over 4 topics. Final rating: III. FINAL TEST: The final test will contain test items focused on the subject matter of the next 4 topics + some items focused on the repetition of topics 1,2 and 3,4, for which you will be able to obtain a max. 40 points. A minimum of 50% success rate is required to successfully complete the course.

CLASSIFICATION:

A - 91 - 100 (excellent - excellent results),

B - 90 - 81 (very good - above average standard),

C - 80 - 71 (good - normal reliable work),

D - 70 - 61 (satisfactory - acceptable results),

E - 60 - 51 (sufficient - the results meet the minimum criteria),

Fx - 50 - 0 (insufficient).

The teacher accepts max. 2 absences with proven documents.

The exact date of the mid-term evaluation will be announced at the beginning of the semester.

Exam dates will be published via AIS no later than the last week of the semester.

Weight of the mid-term / final evaluation: 70/30.

Scale of assessment (preliminary/final): = 70/30.

Learning outcomes:

Upon successful completion of the course, students know the basic methodological concepts, stages and principles of quantitative and qualitative pedagogical research. They have the skills needed to study and analyze scientific studies in pedagogy and understand the research of others. They are able to design their own educational research, research or action research of the teacher and implement an independent research effort. They have the ability to choose appropriate and meaningful research topics, deftly develop a research project, collect and empirically correct analysis of research data. They can then interpret, defend and publish research data meaningfully and creatively.

Class syllabus:

1. Pedagogical research - definition of basic terms: cognition, science in human cognition, scientific theory, research, pedagogical research, theory, practice, method, methodology. Relation of pedagogical research to practice (R&D). Research - action research - evaluation.

2. Planning, organization and implementation of field pedagogical research: Stages of research work. Research plan and diary of a pedagogical researcher. Research information preparation. Ethics in research work.

3. Thinking about a research problem: The difference between a topic and a research problem. Thinking and judgment of a researcher. Selecting the essential and distinguishing partial phenomena from the general background. Preparation of a research project.

4. Qualitative and qualitative research design: Comparison of qualitative and quantitative research, their philosophical background, goals, focus and procedures in the collection and processing of research data.

5. Qualitative oriented pedagogical research: Selected currents (branches) of qualitative research: Ethnography, Phenomenological analysis, Narrative and Dramaturgical approach, Conversational analysis. Qualitative research procedures. Terrain access. Research methods used in qualitative research. Quality standards of qualitative research.

6. Quantitative oriented pedagogical research and its main phases: Determining the research problem. Variables and hypotheses and their place in pedagogical research. Hypothesis testing in scientific research. Measurement and quantification in pedagogical research.

7. Determination of the selection of research data collection methods: research method, research tool, validity, reliability and correlation coefficient of the research tool. Selection, study and preparation, or creation of tools for collecting research data.

8. Methods of research data collection: Observation, questionnaire, assessment scales, interviews, tests of knowledge and skills, sociometry, semantic differential and pedagogical experiment

9. Processing of obtained research data: Preparation for analysis, Analysis and interpretation of obtained research data (verbal or numerical). Discussion of research conclusions. Making recommendations for practice.

Educational activities: Type of activities: lecture / seminar Number of hours: per week: 1 / 1 per level/semester: 14 / 14 Form of the course: on-site learning
Number of credits: 5
Recommended semester: 1.
Educational level: II.
Prerequisites:
Course requirements: a) During the instruction period of the semester: each student will give two power-point presentations on a selected figure in the history of philosophy and two power-point presentations on selected problems in systematic philosophy. They will hand in one concept map of a chosen philosophical text in a power-point presentation during the instruction period of the semester. They will present these presentations in class. b) In the examination period, they will submit a seminar paper (5 standard pages) on a chosen topic in the didactics of philosophy. The evaluation from the preliminary part is a prerequisite for the evaluation in the examination part of the semester. Violation of academic ethics may result in the cancellation of the points scored in the relevant assessment item. The teacher will accept a maximum of two absences with documentation. The exact dates of the preliminary assessment will be announced at the beginning of the semester. Dates of handing in the seminar paper will be published via AIS no later than the last week of the instruction period. Scale of assessment (preliminary/final): preliminary 50%/in examination period 50%
Learning outcomes: After successfully completing the course, students have knowledge of the basic didactic concepts, methods, strategies, principles and forms of teaching Philosophy for the needs of secondary schools. Students have information about the curriculum of the Social Studies subject. Students have basic information about the construction of the lesson with emphasis on the motivation phase. Students are able to successfully create a conceptual map of the analysed philosophical text and present it. They can give presentations on selected philosophers and philosophical problems. They have practical skills in imparting knowledge in a form appropriate to the needs of teaching Philosophy at secondary schools. Students have developed critical thinking and can work effectively with philosophical texts. Students can use the acquired knowledge and skills in the context of their own future pedagogical activity.
Class syllabus: 1. State education programme, school education programme, curricula, content and performance standards, thematic lesson plans, subject committees

2. Preparation for the lesson, phases of the lesson.
3. Ability to self-reflect, argue, debate and think critically
4. Cross-curricular relations, Cross-sectional themes.
5. Trends in teaching philosophy at secondary schools (how to teach philosophy). Contemporary tendencies in the design of the content of teaching philosophy.
6. Didactics in philosophical reflection. Didactics of philosophy as applied didactics, its subject and goals, the relationship of didactics of philosophy to other scientific disciplines.
7. Setting goals in teaching philosophy. Specific objectives in philosophy classes.
8. Critical thinking in philosophy classes - affective strategies.
9. Critical thinking in philosophy classes - cognitive strategies.
10. Working with a philosophical text.

STATE EXAM DESCRIPTION

Academic year: 2022/2023
University: Comenius University Bratislava
Faculty: Faculty of Arts
Course ID: FiF.KFDF/A-muFI-501/22	Course title: Methodology of Philosophy
Number of credits: 3
Educational level: II.
Course requirements: The students can take the state exam a) After obtaining at least such number of credits that after obtaining credits for successful completion of state exams, they achieve the necessary number of credits for the proper completion of studies, b) After successful completion of compulsory subjects, compulsory elective subjects, and elective subjects in the composition determined by the study program, c) After fulfilling the student's obligations arising from § 71, par. 3 letter b of the Higher Education Act, d) If no disciplinary action is taken against them. Successful completion of the state exam is one of the conditions for successful completion of the study program. The subject of the state exam is evaluated by the committee for state exams using the grading scale A-FX. The evaluation of the state exam or its part is decided by the exam committee by consensus. If the exam committee does not reach a consensus, the evaluation of the state examination or its part is decided by voting. On the basis of the wording of the study regulations of the faculty (Internal Rules and Regulations 5/2020, Art. 15), the framework dates of state exams are set by the dean in accordance with the faculty's academic schedule. Departments are obliged to publish the dates of their state exams on the website no later than 5 weeks before they take place. The student registers for the state exam through the academic information system (AIS) at least three weeks before it takes place. The student is entitled to one regular and two resit attempts of the state exam. The regular attempt is the one for which the student applied for the first time within the deadline set for state exams. If the student was evaluated with the FX mark on the regular attempt of the state exam, the student may take resits of the state exam a) on the following dates assigned for state exams in the relevant academic year, or b) on the dates assigned for state exams in one of the following academic years in accordance with § 65, par. 2 of the Higher Education Act. If the student is unable to come on the day of the state exam for which they have registered on serious grounds, they are obliged to apologize in writing to the chairman of the exam committee in advance or no later than three working days after the date of the state exam or its part, if there were serious obstacles that prevented them to do so in advance. If the student does not attend the state exam or its part without an excuse within the specified period, or if the chairman of the exam committee does not accept their excuse, they are assessed with the FX grade from that attempt of the state exam. Scale of assessment (preliminary/final): 0%/100%
Learning outcomes: After successfully passing the state final examination in the subject Didactics of Philosophy, students have adequate theoretical knowledge in the field of didactics of philosophy, as well as practical skills in conceiving, conducting and organizing a teaching lesson in philosophy at secondary school. On the basis of an oral answer to one selected question, consisting of two sub-questions from the subject Didactics of Philosophy (one question concerning theoretical knowledge would use in the design of a model lesson in the teaching of philosophy), the student demonstrates the ability to interpret and practically demonstrate the acquired knowledge on the subject, as well as to respond promptly in the course of the discussion to the questions raised.

Class syllabus:

1. The student arrives on the registered date of the state exam according to the schedule set by the department.
2. The student receives a question from the subject of the state exam, which is submitted in writing and anonymously in the form of a random selection from printed questions or a generator.
3. The exam committee will provide the student with reasonable time to prepare an oral answer to the question.
4. The student presents the prepared answer to the question in front of the exam committee and answers the additional questions.
5. After the student finishes their answer, the exam committee decides on the results of the state exam in a closed session of the exam committee.

State exam syllabus:

Thematic areas:

1. A. Specific objectives in philosophy classes; B. Lesson presentation on a selected problem or figure in pre-Socratic philosophy.
2. A. Critical thinking in philosophy classes - affective strategies (description, explanation); B. Lesson presentation on a selected problem in Plato's philosophy.
3. A. Critical thinking in philosophy classes - cognitive strategies (description, explanation); B. Lesson presentation on a selected problem in Aristotle's philosophy.
4. A. Critical thinking in philosophy classes - cognitive strategies (description, explanation); B. Lesson presentation on a selected problem or a personality from medieval philosophy.
5. A. Organisation of teaching in the philosophy class; B. Lesson presentation on a selected problem or figure in Renaissance philosophy.
6. A. Classification and alternative forms of assessment in philosophy classes; B. Lesson presentation on a selected problem in modern rationalist philosophy.
7. A. Structure and writing philosophic papers and essays; B. Lesson presentation on a selected problem in modern empirist philosophy.
8. A. Criteria for assessment of written papers, essays in philosophy;
B. Lesson presentation on a selected problem in Kant's philosophy.
9. A. Material resources in philosophy classes; B. Lesson presentation on a selected problem or figure in 19th century philosophy.
10. A. The personality of the philosophy teacher, graduation examination and secondary school professional activity in philosophy; B. Lesson presentation on a selected problem or figure in 20th century philosophy.

Violation of academic ethics may result in the cancellation of the points scored in the relevant assessment item. Grading scale: A: 100-92 B: 91-84 C: 83-76 D: 75-68 E: 67-60 FX: 59-0. The teacher will accept a maximum of two absences with documentation. The dates for the final test will be announced through AIS at the beginning of the instruction period. Scale of assessment (preliminary/final): 100%/ 0%
Learning outcomes: After successfully completing the course, students will be familiar with the different approaches of the representatives of various anthropological concepts of the 20th and 21st centuries. They have knowledge of modern philosophical anthropology represented by M. Scheler, H. Plessner, A. Gehlen, as well as of conceptions of man within the philosophy of symbolic forms and cultural anthropology (E. Cassirer, M. Landmann, A. Schweitzer). He understands cosmological-anthropological and existentialist conceptions of man (P. Teilhard de Chardin, K. Jaspers, E. Fromm). They are able to identify the core values associated with the question of the meaning of life of contemporary man and his images in the context of the 21st century.
Class syllabus: 1. Max Scheler's Program in Philosophical Anthropology. 2. The conception of man and the understanding of human nature in A. Gehlen. 3. The concept of H. Plessner and the basic anthropological laws.

4. Anthropology and culture. Man as creator and creation of culture (M. Landmann).
5. Anthropology and moral culture in the concept of respect for life (A. Schweitzer).
6. Concept of the man of E. Cassirera. Man as a symbolic being.
7. The cosmological-anthropological conception of P. Teilhard de Chardin.
8. Selected anthropological conceptions of existentialist and personalist character (K. Jaspers, G. Marcel).
9. The Image of Man in Psychoanalytic Concepts (E. Fromm, V. E. Frankl).
10. Images of the man of 21st century (Z. Bauman).

Course requirements: Active participation in classes (max. 3 documented absences), preliminary knowledge test in the middle of the instruction period of the semester (max. number of points: 20), final written exam (max. number of points: 30). Total assessment: max. number of points: 50. (100-92% - A, 91-84% - B, 83-76 - C, 75-68 - D, 67-60 - E). Violation of academic ethics may result in the cancellation of the points scored in the relevant assessment item. Scale of assessment (preliminary/final): 100% preliminary
Learning outcomes: After successfully completing the course, students have knowledge of the basic concepts of set theory, the historical context of the origin of set theory, and the mathematical and philosophical problems associated with some of the key concepts and axioms of set theory. They are able to handle set concepts and practically provide elementary proofs, which allows them to better understand the emergence of analytic philosophy at the beginning of the 20th century and thus has built a more professional foundation for pursuing a deeper study of the philosophy of mathematics.
Class syllabus: 1. The position of set theory in mathematics. Set theory as the “foundation of mathematics” 2. The concept of sets: The first definitions of set in B. Bolzano, G. Cantor and R. Dedekind. 3. The “naive” understanding of a set and the implicit definition of a set through axioms. 4. Zermel's axiomatisation of set theory. 5. The concept of infinity and infinite set: Potential and actual infinity in mathematics. 6. George Cantor's understanding of the infinite (finite - transfinite - absolutely infinite; transfinite ordinal and cardinal numbers). 7. Cantor's theorem. Dedekind's definition of an infinite set. 8. Proofs of the existence of an infinite set (Bolzano, Dedekind, Russell). 9. The axiom of infinity in the Zermel-Fraenkel set theory. 10. Problems at the origin of set theory: The origin of Russell's paradox from Cantor's theorem. First attempts to overcome paradoxes. 11. The most controversial axiom of set theory: The “axiom of selection” (AC).

12. Contemporary philosophical issues in set theory.

STATE EXAM DESCRIPTION

Academic year: 2022/2023
University: Comenius University Bratislava
Faculty: Faculty of Arts
Course ID: FiF.KFDF/A-muFI-502/22	Course title: Philosophy
Number of credits: 3
Educational level: II.
Course requirements: The students can take the state exam: a) After obtaining at least such number of credits that after obtaining credits for successful completion of state exams, they achieve the necessary number of credits for the proper completion of studies, b) After successfully completing the compulsory subjects, compulsory elective subjects, and elective subjects in the composition determined by the study program, c) After fulfilling the student's obligations arising from § 71, par. 3 letter b of the Higher Education Act, d) If no disciplinary action is taken against them. Successful completion of the state exam is one of the conditions for successful completion of the study program. The subject of the state exam is evaluated by the committee for state exams using the grading scale A-FX. The evaluation of the state exam or its part is decided by the exam committee by consensus. If the exam committee does not reach a consensus, the evaluation of the state examination or its part is decided by voting. On the basis of the wording of the study regulations of the faculty (Internal Rules and Regulations 5/2020, Art. 15), the framework dates of state exams are set by the dean in accordance with the faculty's academic schedule. Departments are obliged to publish the dates of their state exams on the website no later than 5 weeks before they take place. The student registers for the state exam through the academic information system (AIS) at least three weeks before it takes place. The student is entitled to one regular and two resit attempts of the state exam. The regular attempt is the one for which the student applied for the first time within the deadline set for state exams. If the student was evaluated with the FX mark on the regular attempt of the state exam, the student may take resits of the state exam a) On the following dates assigned for state exams in the relevant academic year, or b) On the dates assigned for state exams in one of the following academic years in accordance with § 65, par. 2 of the Higher Education Act. If the student is unable to come on the day of the state exam for which they have registered on serious grounds, they are obliged to apologize in writing to the chairman of the exam committee in advance or no later than three working days after the date of the state exam or its part, if there were serious obstacles that prevented them to do so in advance. If the student does not attend the state exam or its part without an excuse within the specified period, or if the chairman of the exam committee does not accept their excuse, they are assessed with the FX grade from that attempt of the state exam. Scale of assessment (preliminary/final): 0%/100%
Learning outcomes: In the final state examination in the subject Philosophy, the students demonstrate adequate knowledge of the history of philosophy (history of philosophy of the 20th century), as well as of the profile, compulsory elective and elective subjects. On the basis of an oral answer to two selected questions from the subject Philosophy (one question from the history of philosophy and the other from systematic philosophy), the students demonstrate the ability to interpret the acquired knowledge on a given issue, as well as respond promptly in the discussion to the questions raised.

Class syllabus:

1. The student arrives on the registered date of the state exam according to the schedule set by the department.
 2. The student receives a question from the subject of the state exam, which is submitted in writing and anonymously in the form of a random selection from printed questions or a generator.
 3. The exam committee will provide the student with reasonable time to prepare an oral answer to the question.
 4. The student presents the prepared answer to the question in front of the exam committee and answers the additional questions.
 5. After the student finishes their answer, the exam committee decides on the results of the state exam in a closed session of the exam committee.
- The course of the state exam and the announcement of its results are public.

State exam syllabus:

Thematic areas: History of Philosophy:

1. Phenomenological method, the phenomenological understanding of consciousness and intentionality, and the phenomenological critique of naturalism and historicism (Husserl, Heidegger).
2. Existentialism and its view of the authentic form of the life of the human individual and the philosophical approach to existence and being. The issue of freedom and the meaning of human existence (Sartre, Jaspers).
3. Heidegger's philosophy of being and his analysis of the structures of human existence. The concept of the existential and ontological differentiation.
4. Theory of knowledge and understanding of truth and science in classical pragmatism (Peirce, James, Dewey).
5. Critical theory of the Frankfurt School: neo-Marxist critique of Western civilization and the theory of communicative rationality (Horkheimer, Adorno, Habermas).
6. Radical critique of metaphysics and different conceptions of metaphysics in 20th century philosophy (logical positivism, Heidegger, pragmatism, Frankfurt School, Derrida).
7. The notion of structure and the basic features of the structural method in French structuralist and post-structuralist philosophy (Lévi-Strauss, Foucault, Barthes, Althusser).
8. The turn to language and the role of modern logic in early analytic philosophy (Frege, Russell, Wittgenstein). Conceptual analysis as a method of philosophy. Fregean semantics.
9. The concept of philosophy and the philosophy of science in logical positivism and logical empiricism (Vienna Circle, Berlin Society for Empirical Philosophy).
10. Philosophical reflection on the postmodern situation in society and science (Lyotard). Deconstructive reading of texts as a way of philosophizing (Derrida)

Metaethics:

1. Metaethics, descriptive ethics and normative ethics
2. The dichotomy of facts and values; descriptions and prescriptions
3. Cognitivist explanation of prescriptions
4. Non-cognitivist explanation of prescriptions
5. Realism, intuitionism and naturalism and the question of moral facts

Learning outcomes: Students are able to: - analyze the different areas of interest of social pedagogy and its tools for dealing with challenging life situations of individuals and groups, especially children and adolescents, and the impact of these situations on their behavior and functioning in school, - identify and diagnose individual socio-pathological phenomena in the behaviour of pupils/students in school, - to apply practically the methods of social pedagogue's work in the school environment, taking into account specific difficult life situations of children and adolescents at school.
Class syllabus:

1. Pedagogy of the environment
2. Poverty and the family in need
3. Unemployment
4. Homelessness
5. Violence: domestic violence
6. Bullying, mobbing and stalking, cyberbullying
7. CAN Syndrome
8. Addictions
9. Crime - Penitentiary and post-penitentiary care
10. Volunteering - a pathway to humanity and self-fulfilment
11. Streetwork and low-threshold assistance
12. Field activity
13. The role and importance of the social pedagogue in the Slovak school (independent preparation and discussion)

Academic year: 2022/2023
University: Comenius University Bratislava
Faculty: Faculty of Arts
Course ID: FiF.KFDF/A-moFI-146/22	Course title: Selected Issues from Social and Political Philosophy
Educational activities: Type of activities: lecture / seminar Number of hours: per week: 1 / 1 per level/semester: 14 / 14 Form of the course: on-site learning
Number of credits: 5
Recommended semester: 1., 3.
Educational level: II.
Prerequisites:
Course requirements: 100% attendance (in justified cases the teacher may excuse 2 absences), activity in seminars and a final paper (essay) on a selected course topic, which will be due one week before the end of the semester and will be graded as follows: A: 10 points, B: 9 points, C: 8 points, D: 7 points, E: 6 points, Fx: 0-5 points, considering mainly the creative and at the same time qualified processing of the selected problem (topic). Violation of academic ethics may result in the cancellation of the points scored in the relevant assessment item. Scale of assessment (preliminary/final): Preliminary 100%
Learning outcomes: After successfully completing the course, students are both knowledgeable and able to critically assess some of the most current topics in contemporary social and political philosophy. They are able to situate them within a broader historical, philosophical and social whole.
Class syllabus: Power and power relations. Attributes of power. Truth and "Truth Mode". What is political fanaticism? Its sources and causes. Political fanaticism and totalitarianism. Democracy as a cultural-historical phenomenon. Progress and alternatives for social development. Political change.

Educational level: II.
Prerequisites:
Course requirements: Continuous assessment: homework (50%). Final assessment: written exam (50%). At least half of the points from the continuous assessment must be admitted to the exam. Grading: A [100-90], B (90-80], C (80-70], D (70-60], E (60-50], Fx (50-0]. Scale of assessment (preliminary/final): 50/50
Learning outcomes: Course graduate: 1. Knows basic affine and metric properties of conic sections in the Euclidean plane and quadratic surfaces in the Euclidean three-dimensional space, using mainly the analytical method. 2. Is aware of the crucial role of polarity in the theory of quadratic forms. Is informed about quadrics in the Euclidean space of any dimension. 3. Is acquainted with synthetic constructions of real regular conic sections and practical applications and interpretations of their properties.
Class syllabus: 1. Conics in the Euclidean plane: definition and representation; asymptotic vectors; regular, singular point; the center of the conic; polarity; tangents; principal vectors; axes and vertices of the conics; affine and metric classification of conics; focal points and directrices. Applications. 2. Fundamentals of the theory of quadratic surfaces in the Euclidean three-dimensional space: regular linear and non-linear quadratic surfaces; singular quadratic surfaces; quadratic surfaces such as cylindrical surfaces over the conic sections; quadratic surfaces obtained by affine transformation of a conic. Intersection points of a line (plane) with a quadratic surface.

Learning outcomes: After completing the course, the student knows the theories of various forms of teaching, some of which he has tried. He knows the root causes of the problems that students with a planar representation of space have - the question "Why don't students see it?". Can carry out various additional activities that develop students' mathematical competencies, e.g. competitions, games, fun afternoon.
Class syllabus: Basic features and historical development of constructivist teaching. Piaget, Kohlberg, Vygotsky, Bachelard. Creation of teaching material. Group and cooperative teaching. Didactic game, its use and creation. Stereometry cubes with paper scissors and glue. Stereometry of a circle, folding "other" origami. Project teaching, project assignment (to whom, what, how, when, for what time). Problem teaching, design of own problem teaching. Outdoor school - from organization to implementation. Mathematical afternoon at school in nature, creation of a program "out". Mathematical competitions - various forms of competitions, difficulty assessment and task creation.

Educational activities: Type of activities: lecture / seminar Number of hours: per week: 1 / 1 per level/semester: 14 / 14 Form of the course: on-site learning
Number of credits: 5
Recommended semester: 1., 3.
Educational level: II., III.
Prerequisites:
Course requirements: Preliminary evaluation during the instruction period: a) Active participation in seminars: 1 point for each seminar, max. 10 points b) Presentation of one selected topic: max. 20 points c) Written paper in the form of a philosophical essay of min. 7 standard pages: 20 points Absences with documentation not exceeding 25% of the classes are accepted. Violation of academic ethics will be punished, and the student can lose all the received points in the relevant performance. Grading scale: A – 50-47 points; B – 46-43 points; C – 42-38 points; D – 37-34 points; E - 33-30 points; Fx – 29 points or less. Scale of assessment (preliminary/final): 100% preliminary Learning outcomes: After successfully completing the course, students have knowledge of the most important trends and currents in Slovak philosophy over the last hundred years. They know the philosophical works of the period, have an overview of how philosophy as a scientific discipline was gradually profiled. They are able to carry out a critical reflection on the work of key personalities, understand their starting points and the conclusions they reached in an often complicated period.
Class syllabus: 1. Reflection of Slovak philosophical thought at the turn of the 19th and 20th centuries. 2. Formation of the first positivist and realist philosophical concepts. 3. Features of religious philosophy in the Slovak environment. 4. Anthropological and scientific orientation of the various movements and personalities of the period. 5. Neopositivism and Igor Hrušovský. 6. Philosophy of life and Svätopluk Štúr. 7. Philosophy in Slovakia during World War II. Critical versus intuitive realism. 8. Marxist philosophy in Slovakia. 9. Philosophical dissent. 10. Forms of philosophy at the end of the 20th century. 11. New forms and shapes of philosophy in the early 2020s.

Prerequisites:
Course requirements: Preliminary evaluation during the instruction period: presentation of two selected topics in form of report (50 points) In the examination period: colloquial exam consisting of the presentation and defence of a written thesis (50 points) Violation of academic ethics may result in the cancellation of the points scored in the relevant assessment item. The condition for admission to the exam is the scoring of min. 30 points from the preliminary assessment. Grading scale: 100-90: A; 89-79: B; 78-68: C; 67-57: D; 56-46: E; 45- -0: FX Maximum 2 justified absences are accepted. The exact date and topic of the preliminary assessment will be announced at the beginning of the semester. Dates of examination will be published via AIS no later than the last week of the instruction period. Scale of assessment (preliminary/final): 50%/ 50%
Learning outcomes: After successfully completing the course, students have knowledge of the conceptions of science formed in 20th century philosophy, they are able to critically evaluate and compare them. They understand the issue of the relationship between science and society in its entirety, can evaluate the current discourse on the social aspects of the development of science. They are able to critically reflect on and develop questions of the ethics of science.
Class syllabus: 1. Epistemology and philosophy of science in the 20th century. From scientism to the social turn. 2. Science and non-science: the problem of demarcation. 3. New inspirations: the sociology of scientific knowledge. 4. The social turn in the philosophy of science. 5. The social context of scientific knowledge. 6. The subject of scientific knowledge, the problem of objectivity and value neutrality of science. 7. The problem of the autonomy of science. 8. Feminist reflection on science.

9. The normative structure of science.
10. Science and values, the ethos of science.
11. Ethics in science and ethics of science.

Violation of academic ethics may result in the cancellation of the points scored in the relevant assessment item. Scale of assessment (preliminary/final): 100% preliminary
Learning outcomes: After successfully completing the course, students will know how universal determinism and at the same time the freedom of the sage can be admitted within the Stoic system. They understand the integral connection of the three parts of Stoic philosophy (physics, logic, ethics). They are able to address the dilemma of determinism and freedom on the ground of other philosophical conceptions as well, and not only in antiquity.
Class syllabus: 1. Hellenism - period, culture, philosophy, Hellenistic schools and their character, the position of Stoicism as a dogmatic school. 2. Stoic physics of the elements: an integrated Stoic universe. Difference between to holon and to pan. Active and passive elements. 3. Stoic psychology: Integration function of the pneuma, its tension and degrees. 4. The doctrine of the Logos, fate, providence and God. The degree of dynamism and autonomy of the pneuma is determined by its fire element. 5. The place of the man-sage in the cosmos in terms of the quality of his soul. 6. Stoic epistemology: imagination (fantasy), instinct, assent, catalepsy, knowledge, division of fantasies according to origin and cognitive relevance. 7. Stoic theory of causes. Stoic cause as something physical. The blending of Stoic and Peripatetic theories of causes.

8. Stoic theory of division and hierarchisation of causes. Practical examples from life.
9. Stoic theory of free decision and action: degrees of autonomy of the pneuma, freedom as the possibility of independent action, the Stoic sage - is he really free?
10. Modal categories in the Stoic conception of freedom: fate, necessity, chance, possibility, freedom.
11. Stoic ethics, the problem of bliss and Stoic ataraxia, mean and perfect duties.
12. The problem of indifferent things, their articulation and revision of approaches, virtue as a rational disposition, three definitions of Stoic virtue, final connection with the understanding of freedom.

Recommended semester: 1., 3.
Educational level: II.
Prerequisites:
Course requirements: During the instruction period of the semester: one test (in the first half of the semester) and the seminar paper is submitted in the last week of the instruction period of the semester. Students can score a maximum of 100 points for the test, the minimum for passing the course is 60 points. The weight of the test is 50% of the final assessment. The remaining 50% of the assessment consists of seminar paper. Violation of academic ethics may result in the cancellation of the points scored in the relevant assessment item. Test grading scale: A: 100%-92%; B: 91%-84%; C: 83%-76%; D: 75%-68%; E: 67%-60% FX: 59%-0% The teacher will accept a maximum of two absences with documentation. Scale of assessment (preliminary/final): 100%: preliminary Learning outcomes: After completing the course, students will have knowledge of key metaphysical concepts in medieval scholastic philosophy. They know the main representatives of these metaphysical theories (Thomas Aquinas and Duns Scotus) and their treatment of the question of the object of metaphysics: theological, ontological or onto-theological. They are able to understand a scholastic text, able to make historical and philosophical connections (especially with medieval Arabic philosophy: Avicenna and Averroes), identify key issues, and be able to compare scholastic understandings of metaphysics with contemporary metaphysical conceptions, especially the views of P. F. Strawson (revisionist vs. descriptive metaphysics).
Class syllabus: 1. Aristotle - division of the sciences, nature of the first philosophy 2. Avicenna - ontological understanding of metaphysics 3. Averroes - theological understanding of metaphysics 4. Aquinas - existence as an analogous concept I. 5. Aquinas - existence as an analogous concept II. 6. Aquinas - metaphysics and theology 7. John Duns Scotus - the subject of metaphysics 8. John Duns Scotus - existence as an unambiguous concept I. 9. John Duns Scotus - existence as an unambiguous concept II.

10. John Duns Scotus I. - metaphysics and theology 11. The historical influence of Thomas Aquinas 12. The historical influence of John Duns Scotus
