Academic year: 2023/2024
University: Comenius University Bratislava
Faculty: Faculty of Arts
Course ID: FiF.KAA/A-mpAN-308/15	Course title: Literary Translation 2
Educational activities: Type of activities: seminar Number of hours: per week: 2 per level/semester: 28 Form of the course: on-site learning
Number of credits: 3
Recommended semester: 2., 4.
Educational level: II.
Prerequisites: FiF.KAA/A-mpAN-302/15 - Literary Translation 1
Course requirements: Continuous assessment: During the semester, students work on various assignments (listed in Moodle) that they bring to the seminars. In addition, students will produce two final translations, which form the largest part of the assessment. One text of the final translation will be listed in advance in Moodle, the second text choose the students themselves. They will have at least one week to translate each text. Grading scale: 0-60-68-76-84-92-100% = FX-E-D-C-B-A A maximum of 2 absences are allowed without having to document them. Violations of academic ethics will be sanctioned by a reduction in grade up to and including a petition for disciplinary action, depending on the level of severity. Scale of assessment (preliminary/final): 100/0 (%)
Learning outcomes: The student will gain a comprehensive overview of the most important practices and types of problems in the production of literary translation, as well as a higher degree of expertise with the more complex process of translating literary texts of different poetics, discourses and genres: prose, poetry, drama.
Class syllabus: The aim of the course is to extend the experience and knowledge that the student will gain by taking the course Literary Translation 1. The aim is to demonstrate at a higher level of knowledge the role that literary translation plays in the semiosis of intercultural communication, as well as in the development of the native cultural tradition and its literary language. Students will gain advanced knowledge of translational theory and terminology, but most importantly, in the practical part, they will be introduced in vivo, both in teams and individually, to translation practices and the key types of translation problems that a literary translator potentially has to deal with. Working with fiction texts of different poetics, we will introduce students to the procedures and stages of translating fiction, namely prose, drama and poetry, and demonstrate the following areas of translation issues in a live translation process: 1. the relevance of the translation concept for the success of translation

2. the complexity of translating polysemic texts 3. the translation of humour 4. translation of dramatic effect 5. the search for functional equivalence in the identity of a work of fiction 6. the complexity of translating culturally specific texts 7. the problem of multivocality and intentionality 8. translation in intercultural communication 9. translation of intertextual continuations

Course requirements: Continuous assessment: During the semester, students work on various assignments (listed in Moodle) which they bring to seminars. In addition, students work on one final project, which forms the largest part of the assessment. For the final project, students demonstrate in an annotated machine translation assessment how they have mastered the pre-editing of the source text and the subsequent evaluation of the machine translation. Grading scale: 0-60-68-76-84-92-100 % = FX-E-D-C-B-A. A maximum of 2 absences are allowed without having to document them. Scale of assessment (preliminary/final): 100/0 (%)
Learning outcomes: Students will learn about machine translation and the processes and procedures that affect it, as well as those that are affected by it. At the beginning of the semester, they will learn how machine translation works (with a focus on neural machine translation) through additional study materials. Then, throughout the semester, they will explore processes such as pre-editing of the source text for machine translation and then post-editing the source text for machine translation. In addition, students will evaluate the quality of the machine translation output in three forms (questionnaire, form, and mathematical). Thus, the graduate of the course will gain a comprehensive overview of machine translation and related processes.
Class syllabus: <ol style="list-style-type: none"> 1. Machine translation - what it is, how it works, background technology 2. Pre-editing the text before translation 3. Impact of pre-editing on post-editing 4. Evaluating the quality of the output 5. Comparing output quality 6. Ethical aspects of machine translation

Learning outcomes: Since the student only deals with some selected phenomena of French grammar during the semester, they have a broad knowledge and theoretical understanding of these phenomena, which confronts the description of the phenomena by several grammarians or linguists. Based on the analysis of French texts and the creation of a comparative corpus, the student can grasp the linguistic phenomenon in the context of its functioning in French and its linguistic expression in Slovak. After successfully completing the course, the student is sensitive to the linguistic phenomena of French grammar and applies their knowledge in their further linguistic practice (e.g., in translation and interpreting, in teaching French as a foreign language, in editorial work, or in comparing the original and the translation, etc.).

Class syllabus:

During the semester, the seminar focuses on two or three phenomena of the French language, mainly phenomena that cause difficulties for Slovak students regarding their mother tongue. The class syllabus is adapted to the selection of the phenomena in question. The phenomena studied include, for example:

1. The position of adverbs in a sentence
2. The article and its functions within the nominal syntagm
3. The impersonal pronoun "on" and its expression in Slovak
4. Negation in French
5. Expressing the past

A particular linguistic unit is discussed:

1. In practical exercises
2. As a subject of scientific research in scientific texts
3. As the subject of grammatical explanation
4. As a unit of analysis in a French text
5. In the comparison of the original text and its translation (the Slovak expression of the unit)

Academic year: 2023/2024
University: Comenius University Bratislava
Faculty: Faculty of Arts
Course ID: FiF.KAA/A-mpAN-060/00	Course title: Seminar in Consecutive Interpreting 2
Educational activities: Type of activities: seminar Number of hours: per week: 2 per level/semester: 28 Form of the course: on-site learning
Number of credits: 3
Recommended semester: 2., 4.
Educational level: II.
Prerequisites:
Course requirements: Continuous evaluation of the student's performance in class during the semester (100% of the final grade). The assessment includes the student's ability to master individual tasks in class (interpreting speeches, memory exercises), evaluating the formal aspect of the speech (clarity, articulation, choice of linguistic devices in the Slovak language, delivery and intonation) and the content aspect (analysis of the source text, correct decoding of the information and its reformulation in the target language). The teacher evaluates the student's performance continuously when providing feedback after each translated speech. Grading scale: 100% - 91% - A 90% - 81% - B 80% - 71% - C 70% - 61% - D 60% - 51% - E 50% - 0% - FX Teachers will accept a maximum of 2 absences with documented evidence. Scale of assessment (preliminary/final): 100% continuous assessment.
Learning outcomes: After completing the course, the student will be able to independently translate an oralized text from Slovak and English into Slovak and English, respectively, in 4-6 minutes. The student uses active memory work, hierarchization of information and the support of interpreter notation. He/she can analyse the text at first hearing and hierarchise the information, which he/she then processes into short-term memory and also writes down in the form of an interpreter's notation. Has mastered interpreting notation and uses common abbreviations and notation symbols and other notational aids, can speak in front of classmates and can articulate a speech in Slovak or English in a clear manner.
Class syllabus: 1. Memory exercise, division without notation 2. Interpretation of informationally unsaturated speeches 3. Descriptive, factual speeches (filtering important and minor information) 4. Speech with enumerations (their notation and filtering) 5. Argumentative speech with digressions (analysis of the logical structure of the speech) 6. Speeches on the current situation (general overview and knowledge) 7. Formal speech 8. Emotional speech (transfer of non-verbal means) 9. Information-saturated speeches (use of ad-hoc tags) 10. Gradual lengthening of speeches, memory and stamina training (from about 3-4 minutes to 5-6 minutes) 11. Descriptive speech (visualisation, graphic notation) 12. Real political speech 13. Opening speech (time notation)

Number of credits: 3
Recommended semester: 1.
Educational level: II.
Prerequisites:
Course requirements: There is a mid-semester test (50 points). This is a translation of a Slovak text of normal difficulty (length: approximately 1.5 standard pages) into English. Students can use electronic dictionaries and translation tools, but must work independently. In the second half of the semester, students have to create their own project (50 points) where they translate one text (or texts) of their own choice under the guidance of a teacher who plays the role of a mentor. According to the translation performance also in the second half of the semester, the teacher will then determine the overall grade at the end of the semester. Grading scale: 100-92: A 91-84: B 83-76: C 75-68: D 67-60: E 59-0: FX The instructor will accept a maximum of 2 absences without documentation. Violations of academic ethics may see a grade reduction and maybe even a submission of the case for disciplinary action depending on severity. Exact dates for grading will be announced at the beginning of the semester. Scale of assessment (preliminary/final): 100/0
Learning outcomes: Students will acquire professional competences in the field of translation into English with a focus on the translation of texts from different fields of knowledge. Students will master key terminology within the field and continue to improve their skills in working with text in a limited time. They have the opportunity in this course to specialize in the field and work independently under the supervision of the instructor. Graduates of this course will be able to translate independently and will be able to collaborate with other members of the translation process.
Class syllabus:

In the first half of the semester, students translate one short text (up to 2 NS) of a popular and educational nature before each lesson. The text is provided by the teacher one week in advance. Then, in class, students evaluate their translations with the teacher, emphasizing translation problems, pointing out common mistakes, and tips on how to save time in translation while guaranteeing a certain quality. The texts for translation are always of Slovak origin and cover a variety of subject areas. The choice of topics may change as appropriate.

In the second half of the semester, students work on their own project, where they translate one longer text (or texts) of their own choice under the guidance of the instructor, who acts as a mentor. The length of the text depends on the difficulty, but can be expected to be approximately 10 standard pages. Depending on the translation performance also in the second half of the semester, the teacher will then determine the overall grade at the end of the semester. Texts may be from professional literature, but may also be audiovisual works. The choice of text is finalized only after agreement with the instructor.

Course requirements: Throughout the semester, students have to create their own translation project where they translate one longer text (or texts) of their own choice under the guidance of a teacher who acts as a mentor. The length of the text depends on the difficulty. However, they are expected to be around 20 to 30 standard pages. It is also expected that the selected text will have a perceptible level of expertise and that it will not be something simple. According to the standard of translation, the teacher will then determine the overall grade at the end of the semester. The first half of the text will be graded in the middle of the semester (50 points), and the second half of the text (50 points) will be graded at the end of it. Violations of academic ethics will be sanctioned by grade reduction up to and including petition for disciplinary action, depending on the level of severity. Exact dates for midterm grading will be announced at the beginning of the semester. Scale of assessment (preliminary/final): 100/0
Learning outcomes: Students will gain more practice in English translation with a focus on translating professional texts. They continue to improve their skills in working with longer texts (around 20 to 30 standard pages) as part of their own translation project. Upon completion of the course, students will be able to work completely independently as translators and will be able to have constructive relationships with other people in the translation process.
Class syllabus:

From the beginning of the semester, students work on their own project where they translate one longer text (or texts) of their own choice under the guidance of the teacher, who has a role as a mentor. The length of the text depends on the difficulty, but it can be expected to be approximately 20 to 30 standard pages. The text must be of an appropriate level of proficiency. It must not be something very simple. For example, the translation of an academic article or chapter is an ideal basis for a translation project. Texts can be from professional literature, but they can also be audiovisual works. The choice of the text is finalized only after agreement with the teacher. During the semester, students are required to attend classes in order to consult with the teacher about the project.
