COURSE DESCRIPTION

Academic year: 2024/2025
University: Comenius University Bratislava
Faculty: Faculty of Law
Course ID: PraF.KSEP/dSPRP15-811/19	Course title: Preparation of the PhD thesis project in administrative law
Educational activities: Type of activities: independent work Number of hours: per week: per level/semester: 120s Form of the course: on-site learning
Number of credits: 4
Recommended semester: 2.
Educational level: III.
Prerequisites:
Course requirements: Continuous evaluation: elaboration of the basic outline and brief content of the PhD thesis project (50%) Final evaluation: elaboration of the PhD thesis project (50%) Grading scale: Grading scale: A/1 = 91 - 100%; B/1.5 = 81-90%; C/2 = 73-80%; D/2.5 = 66-72%; E/3 = 60-65%; FX = 0-59%. Unless an internal regulation of the CU or the Faculty of Law of the CU provides otherwise. Scale of assessment (preliminary/final): 50/50
Learning outcomes: By systematic preparation of the dissertation project, the doctoral student, under the guidance of his/her supervisor, not only acquires, but also acquires the ability to apply the basic methods of scientific work and their use in his/her own research and scientific activity. Under the influence of regular logical and thoughtful mentoring of the supervisor, who appropriately influences the whole process of project preparation, the doctoral student is able to formulate basic scientific hypotheses, which are also the presumed result, after completing the course. Throughout the preparation phase, the supervisor's interference is passive. On the contrary, the emphasis on the active component of the research is determined by the doctoral student's own creative activity. The above process is finalised by the elaboration of the dissertation project, in which the doctoral student formulates and refines the basic hypotheses on the basis of the previous scientific investigation of the issue and knowledge, and at the same time establishes a scientific platform for further research in the area under study. The present project has a standard layout and respects the formal and citation criteria as well as the principles of referencing primary and secondary literature. The project aims to clearly, concisely and accurately characterise the subject matter of the PhD student. It also includes elaborated sub-objectives that are conditional to the achievement of the main objective. The project does not lack discussion as well as its results. The author's own positions and solutions arrived at are logically organized and sufficiently evaluated. At the same time, the doctoral student is able to comment on all the facts and findings in confrontation with the results of other authors or jurisprudents. After graduation, the doctoral student is able to present, argue partial outcomes of scientific research and lead a professional discussion on the subject matter.

Class syllabus:

1. Analysis of the current state of knowledge in the relevant field.
2. Preparation of the theoretical part of the project: elaboration of the basic outline and brief content of the dissertation project according to the supervisor's guidelines in accordance with the doctoral student's individual scientific plan by means of active use of knowledge.
3. Methods of scientific research, studied literature and information sources, outline to the supervisor.
4. Processing of the empirical part.
5. Assessment of the contribution of the project processing and its applicability to practice.
6. Presentation of own considerations and opinions de lege ferenda.
