COURSE DESCRIPTION

Academic year: 2025/2026
University: Comenius University Bratislava
Faculty: Faculty of Arts
Course ID: FiF.KAA/A-mpAN-322/23	Course title: Machine Translation
Educational activities: Type of activities: seminar Number of hours: per week: 2 per level/semester: 28 Form of the course: on-site learning
Number of credits: 3
Recommended semester: 1., 3.
Educational level: II.
Prerequisites:
Course requirements: Continuous assessment: During the semester, students work on various assignments (listed in Moodle) which they bring to seminars. In addition, students work on one final project, which forms the largest part of the assessment. For the final project, students demonstrate in an annotated machine translation assessment how they have mastered the pre-editing of the source text and the subsequent evaluation of the machine translation. Grading scale: 0-60-68-76-84-92-100 % = FX-E-D-C-B-A. A maximum of 2 absences are allowed without having to document them. Violations of academic ethics will be sanctioned by a reduction in grade up to and including a petition for disciplinary action, depending on the level of severity. Scale of assessment (preliminary/final): 100/0 (%)
Learning outcomes: Students will learn about machine translation and the processes and procedures that affect it, as well as those that are affected by it. At the beginning of the semester, they will learn how machine translation works (with a focus on neural machine translation) through additional study materials. Then, throughout the semester, they will explore processes such as pre-editing of the source text for machine translation and then post-editing the source text for machine translation. In addition, students will evaluate the quality of the machine translation output in three forms (questionnaire, form, and mathematical). Thus, the graduate of the course will gain a comprehensive overview of machine translation and related processes.
Class syllabus: 1. Machine translation - what it is, how it works, background technology 2. Pre-editing the text before translation 3. Impact of pre-editing on post-editing 4. Evaluating the quality of the output 5. Comparing output quality 6. Ethical aspects of machine translation

Classification scale: 100% - 91% - A 90% - 81% - B 80% - 71% - C 70% - 61% - D 60% - 51% - E 50% - 0% - FX Teachers accept a maximum of 2 absences with proven documents . Scale of assessment (preliminary/final): 100% continuous evaluation.
Learning outcomes: At the end of the semester, the student is able to work fluently and promptly in the interpreting booth and simultaneously interpret speeches from Slovak into English for 10-15 minutes. At the same time, they have sufficiently automated cognitive processes necessary for simultaneous interpretation, can use basic strategies and crisis procedures and they can also handle slightly more demanding speeches (faster cadence, higher information saturation). In the analysis of speeches, they can quickly analyze primary and secondary information, they can clearly reformulate the text in the target language. The secondary result of education is also the student's ability to prepare and deliver a speech on a given topic in the length of 10 minutes. During the interpretation, the graduate is able to perform collegially and actively cooperate with the interpreting partner in the booth, masters the principles of professional ethics. The graduate is able to actively work as a pilot and at the same time controls the work with the relay on the interpreting console.

Number of credits: 4
Recommended semester: 2., 4.
Educational level: II.
Prerequisites:
Course requirements: Final Essay Written in Class During the Credit Week. Grading Scale: A: 100% – 93%, B: 92% – 85%, C: 84% – 77%, D: 76% – 69%, E: 68% – 60%, FX: 59% – 0%. Weight of Continuous / Final Assessment: 50% (class participation) / 50% (final in-class essay). Participation: The student demonstrates understanding of the subject matter by actively engaging in class discussions, responding to questions, and formulating their own. Final In-Class Essay: During the credit week, the student will write an essay-style reflection in person, based on one of the thematic areas covered in the course. The minimum required length is one standard page (1 standard page = 1,800 characters). Scale of assessment (preliminary/final): 50% class participation) /50% final in-class essay
Learning outcomes: Students will become acquainted, in an accessible manner, with metamodernism as a way of understanding the emotionality of the contemporary subject. This will enable them to engage with contemporary literature in a more layered and reflective way and to better understand the experience of the contemporary reader in its specific characteristics: in connection with their new affect, their striving for a new sincerity, and their search for a new depth (the value of being) through affective and self-affirming experience of the self within time, space, and corporeal being. At the same time, students will become familiar with autofiction as one of the most popular literary genres of the present—one that blurs the boundary between narrator and author and embodies new (metamodern) forms of experiencing time and space.

Concurrently, they will acquire philologically relevant conceptual tools for thinking about time and space in the 20th and 21st centuries. This knowledge will enable them to reflect in a nuanced way on current metamodern tendencies, drawing from the dialogical philosophy of Mikhail M. Bakhtin, classical phenomenology, the hermeneutics of Hans-Georg Gadamer, postmodern philosophy, the spatial turn in the humanities, and Paul Virilio's phenomenology of speed.

In this way, students will gain a panoramic overview of how time and space are understood in modern and contemporary humanities, develop sensitivity to time and space as both existential and literary categories, and acquire an interpretive-methodological foundation for a mode of their reading that is both critical and meaning-oriented—that is, metamodern—in literary as well as non-literary contexts.

Class syllabus:

Metamodernism as a response to postmodernism and its value-depleted space; metamodernism as oscillation between ironic skepticism and sincerity; metamodernism as a reading of the structure of feeling of the contemporary subject; new affect as a desire to restore sincerity, emotionality, and existential engagement—while maintaining critical awareness of their historical mediation and problematic nature; relational subjectivity as an attempt at meaning-oriented self-experience in time, space, and embodied being; conceptions of time and space in the history of modern philosophy and literary theory; Mikhail Mikhailovich Bakhtin, the architectonics of the event, and the chronotope; phenomenology of time in classical phenomenological philosophy; temporality in Hans-Georg Gadamer's hermeneutics; the postmodern turn to space (Michel Foucault and Jean-François Lyotard); rhizomatic space (Gilles Deleuze & Félix Guattari); postmodern experience of space and capitalism (Fredric Jameson, David Harvey); Henri Lefebvre and his influence on the spatial turn in the humanities; spatiality in the thought of Doreen Massey; cultural critique and the phenomenology of speed in the work of Paul Virilio.

1. Introduction: Metamodernism as a reading of the contemporary subject and their structure of feeling
2. Metamodernism, relational subjectivity, and current modes of self-experience in time and space
3. Mikhail Mikhailovich Bakhtin and his architectonics of the event
4. Mikhail Mikhailovich Bakhtin and his chronotopic thought
5. Toward a phenomenology of time (Edmund Husserl, Maurice Merleau-Ponty)
6. Hans-Georg Gadamer's "empty" and "fulfilled" time
7. The postmodern turn to space I: Michel Foucault and Jean-François Lyotard
8. The postmodern turn to space II: The rhizomatic model (Gilles Deleuze & Félix Guattari)
9. Postmodern space as a symptom of capitalism (Fredric Jameson, David Harvey)
10. The spatial turn in the humanities I: Henri Lefebvre and the social production of space
11. The spatial turn in the humanities II: Doreen Massey and space as a dynamic network of relations
12. Paul Virilio and his phenomenology of speed
13. How to experience oneself in contemporary time and space? Analysis of contemporary autofiction
14. Final in-class essay

COURSE DESCRIPTION

Academic year: 2025/2026
University: Comenius University Bratislava
Faculty: Faculty of Arts
Course ID: FiF.KAA/A-mpAN-304/15	Course title: Translating Specialized Texts 1
Educational activities: Type of activities: seminar Number of hours: per week: 2 per level/semester: 28 Form of the course: on-site learning
Number of credits: 3
Recommended semester: 1.
Educational level: II.
Prerequisites:
Course requirements: There is a mid-semester test (50 points). This is a translation of a Slovak text of normal difficulty (length: approximately 1.5 standard pages) into English. Students can use electronic dictionaries and translation tools, but must work independently. In the second half of the semester, students have to create their own project (50 points) where they translate one text (or texts) of their own choice under the guidance of a teacher who plays the role of a mentor. According to the translation performance also in the second half of the semester, the teacher will then determine the overall grade at the end of the semester. Grading scale: 100-92: A 91-84: B 83-76: C 75-68: D 67-60: E 59-0: FX The instructor will accept a maximum of 2 absences without documentation. Violations of academic ethics may see a grade reduction and maybe even a submission of the case for disciplinary action depending on severity. Exact dates for grading will be announced at the beginning of the semester. Scale of assessment (preliminary/final): 100/0
Learning outcomes: Students will acquire professional competences in the field of translation into English with a focus on the translation of texts from different fields of knowledge. Students will master key terminology within the field and continue to improve their skills in working with text in a limited time. They have the opportunity in this course to specialize in the field and work independently under the supervision of the instructor. Graduates of this course will be able to translate independently and will be able to collaborate with other members of the translation process.
Class syllabus:

In the first half of the semester, students translate one short text (up to 2 NS) of a popular and educational nature before each lesson. The text is provided by the teacher one week in advance. Then, in class, students evaluate their translations with the teacher, emphasizing translation problems, pointing out common mistakes, and tips on how to save time in translation while guaranteeing a certain quality. The texts for translation are always of Slovak origin and cover a variety of subject areas. The choice of topics may change as appropriate.

In the second half of the semester, students work on their own project, where they translate one longer text (or texts) of their own choice under the guidance of the instructor, who acts as a mentor. The length of the text depends on the difficulty, but can be expected to be approximately 10 standard pages. Depending on the translation performance also in the second half of the semester, the teacher will then determine the overall grade at the end of the semester. Texts may be from professional literature, but may also be audiovisual works. The choice of text is finalized only after agreement with the instructor.

Academic year: 2025/2026
University: Comenius University Bratislava
Faculty: Faculty of Arts
Course ID: FiF.KAA/A-mpAN-310/15	Course title: Translating Specialized Texts 2
Educational activities: Type of activities: seminar Number of hours: per week: 2 per level/semester: 28 Form of the course: on-site learning
Number of credits: 3
Recommended semester: 2.
Educational level: II.
Prerequisites: FiF.KAA/A-mpAN-304/15 - Translating Specialized Texts 1
Course requirements: Throughout the semester, students have to create their own translation project where they translate one longer text (or texts) of their own choice under the guidance of a teacher who acts as a mentor. The length of the text depends on the difficulty. However, they are expected to be around 20 to 30 standard pages. It is also expected that the selected text will have a perceptible level of expertise and that it will not be something simple. According to the standard of translation, the teacher will then determine the overall grade at the end of the semester. The first half of the text will be graded in the middle of the semester (50 points), and the second half of the text (50 points) will be graded at the end of it. Grading Scale: 100-92: A 91-84: B 83-76: C 75-68: D 67-60: E 59-0: FX The instructor will accept a maximum of 2 absences without documentation. Violations of academic ethics will be sanctioned by grade reduction up to and including petition for disciplinary action, depending on the level of severity. Exact dates for midterm grading will be announced at the beginning of the semester. Scale of assessment (preliminary/final): 100/0
Learning outcomes: Students will gain more practice in English translation with a focus on translating professional texts. They continue to improve their skills in working with longer texts (around 20 to 30 standard pages) as part of their own translation project. Upon completion of the course, students will be able to work completely independently as translators and will be able to have constructive relationships with other people in the translation process.
Class syllabus:

From the beginning of the semester, students work on their own project where they translate one longer text (or texts) of their own choice under the guidance of the teacher, who has a role as a mentor. The length of the text depends on the difficulty, but it can be expected to be approximately 20 to 30 standard pages. The text must be of an appropriate level of proficiency. It must not be something very simple. For example, the translation of an academic article or chapter is an ideal basis for a translation project. Texts can be from professional literature, but they can also be audiovisual works. The choice of the text is finalized only after agreement with the teacher. During the semester, students are required to attend classes in order to consult with the teacher about the project.

Recommended semester: 1., 3.
Educational level: II.
Prerequisites:
Course requirements: Regular active participation by contributing to discussions and completing preparatory tasks, presentation of a short paper (15 minutes), writing minutes of a meeting (70 percent). Examination period: Oral examination of 20 minutes (30 percent). Prerequisite for admission to the examination is passing the continuous examination (minimum grade E). Scale of assessment (preliminary/final): Weighting of midterm/final grades: 70/30
Learning outcomes: The students can productively apply methods of lyric analysis and interpretation, formulate and justify their own suggestions for interpretation and communicate intersubjectively about interpretations. They know German love poetry from the Baroque to the present and expand their knowledge of literary history. They know canonical and (as yet) non-canonical poems of German-language culture and relevant lyricists. They gain insight into literary, sociological and discourse-historical research theories and can use these for the interpretation of texts. They deal with the existential topics of love, identity and gender in a historical perspective and recognise changeability and continuities. They train their linguistic and scientific competences.
Class syllabus: The selected love poems are to be located within a triangle of literary history, love discourse and gender discourse, whose components range from the Baroque to the present. The focus is on a) Petrarchism, Anacreontics, Sturm und Drang, Romanticism, literary modernism, Expressionism, Neue Sachlichkeit, contemporary poetry, b) love in times of arranged marriages, the "invention" of romantic love around 1800, continued effects, problematisation and alternative concepts c) from the "one-sex-model" to the "two-sex-model" to gender as a social construct. Love poetry by men and women is dealt with and related to each other. Guiding questions are: Who speaks about love, when and to whom? What taboos are there and what transgressions? How is individual and social identity constructed through love? How is masculinity and femininity defined in love poems and how do they challenge gender stereotypes or the norm of heterosexuality?
